Declare Progressive Vote Lost By Hoover For 1932

ROOSEVELT IS GAINING IN STRENGTH

Leaders at Convention in Washington Say Governor of N. Y. Gets Support UTILITIES ARE HIT Discussion of Third Party Barred on Conference Being Held in Capital

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(UP)—The progressive vote, so far as leaders of the conference here this week can lead it, appeared to have been lost by President Hoover for 1932.

It is headed, according to indications thrown out by leaders of the conference, toward some progressive group.

The man coming closest at the moment toward meeting the specifications of the progressives is Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, though no commitment was made by any speakers during the conference. He was invited to attend but declined, though sending a sympathetic message.

Despite an effort to limit the discussion to formulation of a legislative program for the next congress, the White House repeatedly thrust itself in as an ultimate consideration of the progressives.

"It is not enough to have a progressive conference," said Senator George W. Norris, Republican, Nebraska, chairman of the conference. "What this country needs and must have in order to get progressive legislation is a president of the United States who is himself a progressive. What we need in order to bring prosperity and happiness to the common individual is another Roosevelt in the White House."

Later Norris said he was referring to Theodore Roosevelt, not the governor of New York.

Though leaders were restrained in discussing the subject, none who attended the conference had any doubt that next year many progressives will be found working the wheel belt in opposition to the re-election of President Hoover and in behalf of Governor Roosevelt, should he be nominated by the Democrats.

Attacks on public utilities at the conference operated in effect against Owen D. Young, head of General Electric, who is urged by many Democrats for the presidential nomination. What the progressives would do if both Mr. Hoover and Young were nominated, is uncertain. Thus far leaders have refused to permit discussion of a third party.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 13.—(UP)—Twins whose weights totaled 13 pounds were born today to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Herbst, three minutes after midnight.

The boy weighed seven pounds and the girl six pounds, and Papa Herbst wasn't superstitious about it," he said.

"There's no bad luck in that," he beamed. "I think we'll call them Josephine and John—those names total 13 letters."

School Queen Kidnaped And Rescued

NORMAN, Okla., March 13.—(UP)—Triumphant students of engineering at the University of Oklahoma brought their kidnaped queen back from Oklahoma City today to crown her at the annual Saint Pat celebration.

Ancient rivalry between law and engineering students led three of the former to abduct Miss Antonette Halke, of Tulsa, yesterday.

The engineers scouted the countryside and nearby towns before they traced Miss Halke to Oklahoma City, where they found her late last night.

Barring further interruptions by the lawyers, she will be crowned "Queen of Engineers" today.

CHICAGO MAYOR FACING BATTLE TO SAVE POST

Warfare Expected to Be As Spectacular As Primary Race Last Month

CHICAGO, March 13.—(UP)—Indications that the impending fight for the mayorship of Chicago may become as spectacular as the recent Republican primary were seen today as candidates mobilized their forces and disclosed the types of warfare they will wage.

Making his first public appearance since he won the Republican nomination, Mayor William Hale "Big Bill" Thompson launched a vigorous attack yesterday against his Democratic opponent, Anton J. Cermak, whom he charged with wasting money as president of the county board.

Followers of Cermak, meanwhile, held organization meetings at which they declared that "Thompsonism must end" and said taxation and unemployment will be major issues at the April 7 election.

Thompson laughed as he told members of the Interfraternity club he would conduct "a gentlemanly campaign." Then he gave the club a "sample" by accusing Cermak of "having Al Capone in his lap" and of wanting to become the "ruler of Illinois by holding all the jobs at once."

Attacks upon Thompson have been numerous although Cermak himself is determined not to indulge in "personalities" such as marked Thompson's primary fight with Judge John H. Lyle. He has instructed his followers to "ignore the mayor's attacks."

Among those who have declared for Cermak is Julius Rosenwald, the philanthropist, who announced upon returning from Honolulu that "Chicago can't stand another four years of Thompson."

Author of Curfew Poem Hears Radio Program by Actor

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 13.—(UP)—Mrs. Rose Hartwick Thorpe, 81, recalled vividly today the afternoon 64 years ago, when she wrote on her slate the immortal poem, "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight."

Mrs. Thorpe listened last night to a radio broadcast of the poem from New York by Peter De Cordoba, actor, and was pleased.

For years many have thought that the then Rose Hartwick wrote of a lover of her own, but it was from a magazine story that the 17-year-old girl got her idea, she explained today.

RUMANIAN AIR MINISTER HOPS OFF FOR EAST

Prince Ghica Starts Today For Bucharest—Plans 5700 Mile Flight

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(UP)—Prince Jean Matei Ghica, Rumanian air minister, left here at 7:28 a. m. today for New York in the airplane in which he intends to attempt a non-stop flight next month from Bucharest to Cape Town, South Africa, a distance of 5,700 miles.

Ghica was accompanied by Ben Catlin, another pilot. They planned to stop at Dallas, Texas, into today. Upon Ghica's arrival in New York the giant monoplane, christened "King Carl II," will be dismantled, shipped to Germany and flown to Bucharest.

The non-stop flight from the Rumanian capital to South Africa will be attempted late in April, according to the prince's present plans.

The single-motored monoplane, which was built here, is 36 feet long and has a wing spread of 60 feet. It has a gasoline capacity of 1,200 gallons, the largest in history for single-motored ships. Its cruising speed is 118 miles an hour, with top speed of 150 miles an hour.

Ghica was to have taken off at 5:30 a. m. but foggy weather delayed his departure, after circling over the airport for several minutes the prince headed his plane eastward and disappeared over the Westwood hills.

DYNAMITE USED IN CHECKING LANDSLIDE

CHAMBERY, France, March 13.—(UP)—Dynamite charges were laid today in the path of a great mountain landslide which threatened to destroy several villages in the Savoie valley.

The slide of close to 100 acres of earth and rocks already has demolished two small hamlets from which the inhabitants escaped, driving their cattle and carrying such personal belongings as they could remove. There were no casualties.

The mass of earth was moving at the rate of 120 feet a minute when it started down the mountainside, crushing trees and farm houses in its path, but it had slowed down to a pace of 300 feet an hour by the time engineers reached the scene and began laying dynamite to turn the slide away from the threatened villages.

TWO CHILDREN DIE WHEN HOME BURNS

OAKLAND, March 13.—(UP)—Mrs. Ethel Quinn, who made a vain attempt last night to save her two children from death in a fire that destroyed their home, was under treatment at a hospital today for shock and prostration.

Mrs. Quinn left the eldest child, Joan, 6, in charge of Jack, 2, and Dona Marie, six months, while she went to a store. Returning, she found the house in flames. The mother dashed toward the building but neighbors prevented her from entering.

June managed to escape from the fire but told her mother she "could not wake Jackie and Dona up." Their father, John Quinn, a marine engineer, is at sea.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(UP)—The Pennsylvania railroad applied to the interstate commerce commission today for permission to issue $50,000,000 in four and one-quarter per cent general mortgage gold bonds to be sold for not less than 94 per cent of par and accrued interest. The money would be used for refunding a previous issue and for improvements, additional equipment and facilities.

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(UP)—Injuries were caused to 14 persons when a rear-end collision of two street cars occurred today. Police believe the accident was caused by defective air brakes.

RAISIN GROWERS PAID $5,337,814

FRESNO, Calif., March 13.—(UP)—Growers of the California Raisin pool, Federal Farm board co-operative, were paid $5,337,814 in advance, or $47.41 a ton for 112,589.7 tons between July 27, 1930, and February 28, 1931.

That was the gist of a financial statement sent to directors by President Wylie M. Giffen last night and made public generally today.

Giffen's report showed all operating costs exclusive of the grape industry control fee averaged $2.24 a ton. Operations resulted in $68,053.61 excess from sales, and the pool has $245,541.84 cash in banks, with total assets of $6,218,111.12 and total liabilities of $6,008,070.71, the report showed.

'PETTING PARTY' BANDIT WOUNDED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—(UP)—Harold Woodward, asserted "petting party" bandit and ex-convict, was shot in the leg early today while trying to escape capture by the police.

Woodward was arrested after a chase that extended over roofs of several houses, down back stairs and through windows. He fired three times at pursuing officers, they reported, and in turn the officers shot Woodward. He was taken to an emergency hospital.

Woodward was wanted on seven robbery and holdup charges. Police said his record included two terms in the Oregon state penitentiary for robbery.

Bankruptcy Action Filed by Guaranty Building Depositor

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(UP)—Steps were taken today to force the Guaranty Building and Loan association into voluntary bankruptcy.

The association is at present under control of A. N. Kemp, receiver in equity.

Two motions were on file in the federal court today in connection with bankruptcy proceedings. One, filed by H. K. Parsh, a depositor, asks permission to intervene in voluntary bankruptcy proceedings. The other was made by three petitioners in the original action and asks hearing on demurrers to the petition.

March 30 was the date set for the hearing of Parsh's motion by Federal Judge George Cogrove. The other action will be heard March 24.

RESIDENT HERE HALF CENTURY ANSWERS CALL

Samuel T. Miller, Aged 93, Dies at His Home After Short Illness

FRIENDS TODAY are grieving the death of Samuel T. Miller, 93, resident of Orange county for 58 years. He died yesterday at his home at 602 East Sixth street, after an illness of two weeks. His death resulted from general weakness resulting from an injury sustained two weeks ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mary A. Miller, a son Guy Miller of Calipatria, two daughters, Mrs. Emma Webster of Oakland, and Mrs. W. D. Anderson, of Santa Ana, a grandson, Erwin Decker, Santa Ana, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Audra Gallagher, of Oakland.

Services will be held from the Winbigler Funeral Home Monday, at 10 a. m. with the Rev. Perry F. Schrock of the Congregational church officiating. Interment will be made in the Fairhaven cemetery.

Miller came to Orange county in 1873, four years after the founding of Santa Ana and could recall the time when there was but one store in the town.

He was born in North Carolina in December, 1837, and was the son of Nicholas and Nancy Miller, descendants of an old Carolina family. When he was 6 years old the family moved to Rockport, Arkansas, where he lived until he was 17. He then went to El Paso, Texas, and was a stage driver in the southwest for several years. He then moved to Juarez, Mexico, where he became interested in merchandizing, in which business he continued until the outbreak of the Civil War.

Then he furnished horses to the Confederate Army, and also other war supplies, and when the Confederates had to retreat, he went with them hoping to get money due him which was never paid. Another six months as storekeeper led to his venturing into Mexico and starting a stage line from Monterey south to San Luis Potosi. He kept to this hazardous task for 13 months when every-

CHAMBERS UNITE FOR DAM BUSINESS

SALT LAKE CITY, March 13.—(UP)—Utah's two largest chambers of commerce planned today to ask officials of Six Companies, Inc., successful bidders for construction of Boulder dam—to establish their purchasing headquarters in Salt Lake City or Ogden and to favor, as much as possible, Utah materials.

With their eyes focused on the tremendous prosperity plum represented by the dam materials, the Salt Lake and Ogden chambers have joined forces to bring the business to Utah.

Utah, it is claimed can furnish adequate construction materials of just as low cost as coast points.

Employees Dropped By Oil Companies In Gas Price War

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(UP)—Unless some agreement is reached and a halt called in the gas price war hostilities, heavy losses will be incurred by both large and small concerns.

This was the view taken today as prices still prevailed at ridiculously low levels. Tank wagon prices by most major companies and independent holders held at 8 1/2 to 9 cents a gallon, with the retail price of 11 1/2 cents. There were still a number of dealers however, selling at 5 cents a gallon.

It is asserted that several oil companies have already been forced to discharge help and it is expected that this will be continued as long as the price war continues.

18 Year Old Youth Being Hunted Now

Firmly Convinced Daughter Killed by Son of San Diego Financier

SALINAS, March 13.—(UP)—Virtually abandoning the theory that Henry L. Davis, burglar, had anything to do with the murder of Virginia Brooks, Sheriff Carl Abbott prepared today to take Davis to San Quentin prison by automobile.

The firm conviction that her daughter was murdered by the 18-year-old son of a wealthy San Diego man was expressed today by Mrs. John Brooks, in asking that police question the youth regarding the slaying of her daughter.

The youth, Mrs. Brooks added, was a known degenerate with a police record. She said that he "hung around" the library near the school Virginia attended, and "eyed" the young girls on their way to school. He is now on probation, she said.

The youth previously had not been among the score or more of characters questioned by police.

Meanwhile, detectives and horticulturalists were searching for palm trees in the East San Diego district which were infected with a certain fungus growth. Examination by R. R. McLean, county horticultural commissioner, of the leaves in the mould found on Virginia's body showed that the bits of palm were infected with a growth peculiar to certain parts of the county.

Detectives were convinced that discovery of the infected palms would show where the girl's body had been buried for a short time. Four trees, they announced with a smile, were under suspicion.

AGED INDIAN FREE OF MURDER CHARGE

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 13.—(UP)—Nancy Bowen, aged Seneca Indian, who confessed that she killed Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, was freed from the custody of the court today.

County Judge F. Bret Thorn, before whom Nancy appeared for sentence on a first degree manslaughter charge, imposed a sentence of one to 10 years imprisonment on the aged Indian woman.

He then ordered that since she already had served a year and three days awaiting trial, she be released immediately upon probation.

French Expected To Free Widow on Charge of Murder

NICE, France, March 13.—(UP)—Police investigation of the death of Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger indicated today that his widow, the former Charlotte Nash, of St. Louis, who admitted shooting her husband, might never face trial for the killing.

As police were re-enacting the shooting at the home of the couple on the promenade Des Anglais, it appeared likely that the traditional French attitude toward "crime passionnel" would come to the aid of the girl, who won second honors in the 1924 Atlantic City beauty pageant, particularly as the preliminary investigation was said to bear out her contention that she shot herself in self defense.

MISSING GIRL FOUND

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 13.—(UP)—A search begun two days ago for Miss Mary Allen, 23, said to be the daughter of a wealthy Washington, D. C., family, was ended today.

Miss Allen disappeared Tuesday night after coming here a few weeks ago in care of a nurse. She was found here wiring to a friend in the east for funds.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, March 13.—[To the Editor of The Register:] As there was more money spent on cold cream and cosmetics last year than on bacon and beans, why naturally there must be more people interested in beautifying themselves. The International Beauty Congress met in New York and they figured out that this rubbing something on your head to prevent baldness is really what causes it. They claim that you got to take stuff internally for it, so from now on if you see a bald-headed bird reach for his swig, it's only irrigation juice for his roof.

LABOR LEADER GIVEN POST BY HOOVER TODAY

Action Believed Move By President For Peace With A. F. L. Chief

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(UP)—Extension of present federal employment, without the addition of new machinery, was announced by President Hoover last night as his answer to critics of his veto of the Wagner unemployment bill.

The expansion, concretely expressed in terms of half a million dollars expenditure, was looked upon also as an attempt to placate the forces represented by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor. The president selected John R. Alpine, New York A. F. of L. leader, as assistant secretary of labor in charge of the broadened employment activity.

Alpine was Green's choice for secretary of labor, and the differences that rose between him and Mr. Hoover over the appointment led to a sharp rebuke of Green by the president, at the time of his choice of William Doak. The designation of Alpine to the new post was viewed today in the light of a gesture of peace toward Green.

In naming Alpine as assistant secretary of labor, the president said Alpine would begin extension of the employment service at once by the addition of several divisions, and the establishment of a system of co-operation with existing public agencies.

These divisions, he said, will cover mining, building, metal trades, needle trades, transportation, textiles, office and mercantile, seamen and longshoremen. A general study of the question of free public employment agencies also is proposed, with special attention to the problem of technological unemployment.

$56,500 SUIT IS SETTLED FOR $250

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(UP)—Necessity of Mary Pickford and a number of other actors of testifying in court was removed today when a settlement was made out of court of the $56,500 damage suit of Leslie Stuart, author's agent, against Louis Hamon, writer and palmist.

World's Largest Tree Discovered In Sequoia Park

SEQUOIA NATIONAL PARK, Calif., March 13.—(UP)—Col. John R. White, superintendent of Sequoia National park, today said that as soon as the snow melts he would investigate the claim of A. L. Day, prospector, that he had found the world's largest tree.

Day reported that far back in the Sierras he had found a giant Sequoia tree larger and apparently older than the General Sherman tree, heretofore credited with being the world's "oldest and biggest living thing."

SLEEPER TO AID RELIEF IN TAXATION

County Assessor Takes Rap at Revaluation of Land Values in Speech Today

TALKS TO REALTORS Reduces Nearly All Real Estate and Improvements By at Least 10%

ANNOUNCEMENT that a decrease of approximately $15,000,000 in assessed valuations had been made in Orange county today by Assessor James Sleeper following an address before the Santa Ana Realty board at Ketter's cafe.

The total assessed valuation of non-operative property in the county last year, Sleeper said in commenting on his address, was $185,000,000 and it is from this property that revenues for county, city and district expenses are obtained. He said the decrease would be made in an effort to provide relief from the heavy taxation and assessment burdens of the past.

The assessor pointed out that with the reduction in valuations taxpayers would have to get in touch with rate fixing bodies of the county, cities and districts to keep the rates as low as possible.

Sleeper also delivered a sweeping blast against revaluation of land values in the county by outside concerns during the course of his address, which was on the subject, "How Long Can Our Property Stand the Taxation Burden We Are Placing Upon It?"

He read a letter from the San Diego county assessor, which characterized the outside reappraisal in that county and results of its operation as a blight comparable to the freeze of 1913 and the flood of 1916. The San Diego county official said that the outside appraisal there had resulted in an "appalling mess of excessive and unfair valuations" and also resulted in expenditures of from $40,000 to $60,000 annually for maintenance after an initial cost of $125,000.

The Orange county official declared that there is one district in Orange county which has an assessment of $66 on the $100 of assessed valuation, and that it is headed in the direction of neighboring counties where the rate has grown as high as $143.30 per $100 assessed valuation in some instances.

In his address Sleeper said in realization of conditions he was reducing nearly all the real estate and all improvements 10 per cent this year, doing all he possibly

CRIMES INCREASE IN FRESNO COUNTY

FRESNO, Calif., March 13.—(UP)—Hard times make more crimes, a survey made public here today revealed.

From murder to thievery, the increase in crime in Fresno county has been startling.

Murders increased from six in 1929 to 15 in 1930 and four in the first 71 days this year.

Suicides jumped from 20 in 1929, to 30 in 1930, and six so far this year.

Burglaries more than doubled. In 1929, 363, less than one daily, were reported in the county. They have increased steadily until last month there were 57, more than two daily.

FLYER KILLED IN 2500-FOOT FALL

thing was taken from him by the Mexican army.

He then returned to the United States and ran a stage route from San Antonio to El Paso, Texas, but this was soon cleaned out by the Indians. Then he was engaged as a guide by General Wesley Merritt who was building up the old forts on the Mexican border, destroyed during the war. After this he traveled across the plains to California, steamed up and down the Mississippi river, took a sailing boat to South America and from there to England, and in 1870 came back to California.

In 1873 he came to Santa Ana, and later located on 160 acres in Bella Canyon, built himself a log cabin, still to be seen, and lived there for 15 years before he got his title. He went in for bee culture and made a record as an apiarist with a harvest of 40 tons of honey in a single year.

Fourth Jamaica Ginger Case Is Reported Today

Another case of "jake" paralysis in Santa Ana has come to the attention of the county health department. It was learned today.

According to the victim, it was learned from the health department, he drank wine in which the adulterant used in the manufacture of the Jamaica ginger had been used to "spike" the drink. The toes of the man are paralyzed and he is suffering from a partial paralysis of the fingers.

There have been three cases of the paralysis reported previously to the county health department. Local sanitary inspectors, in company with Robert E. Wray, of the state board of health, and director for the state bureau of foods and drugs, have completed a check of all drug stores and other places in the county where the ginger is sold and have found none of the poisoned product in stock.

TALKIES IN SCHOOL

LONDON.—Fifteen schools in Middlesex have been equipped with talking picture apparatus as an adjunct to teaching. Travel, historical, geographical and pictures of natural wonders are thrown on the screen with an accompaniment of vocal description. After the pictures are shown the children are required to write essays on the subjects viewed. It is said that the use of these talkies will aid in the development of backward children.

Income Of Estate Is Estimated At $12,000 Annually

An estate with an estimated annual income of $12,000, valued in the petition as "in excess of $10,000" is disposed of to seven children, share and share alike, in the will of the late Emma A. Gardner, which was attached to the petition for probate, filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs yesterday.

The estate consists of real estate in Los Angeles and Orange counties, and personal property, and each item is given to the children, share and share alike, in undivided interests.

Beneficiaries are H. H. Gardner and Dian R. Gardner, of Orange; Maecia G. Chesley, of Minneapolis; Minnie Orra G. Devereaux and Sybil G. Fogel, of Beverly Hills; and H. Reinald Gardner and Margaret Gardner, of Los Angeles.

White Retained As Post Estate Executor Today

The recent petition filed by Ella N. Fultz, mother of Adele Ritchie Post, who shot and killed her friend, Doris Murray Palmer, and killed herself later at the Palmer home in Laguna Beach last April, in which removal of Moresby White as executor of the will was sought, was dismissed in open court today by attorneys for Mrs. Fultz.

White, in his answer, filed yesterday, denied assertions in the petition concerning his actions as executor, and declared that the estate was being wound up as rapidly and conservatively as possible. He said today that the estate did not have sufficient funds to permit an appeal from a recent ruling of Judge G. K. Scovel denying the claim of the Post estate to property of the Palmer estate valued at $1500.

MILLIONAIRE DIES IN FALL FROM HOTEL

CHICAGO, March 13.—(UP)—Alexander H. Revell, millionaire furniture dealer and a member of a gold coast society family, plunged to his death today from the ninth floor of the fashionable Drake hotel on the lake front.

The body crashed on the top of the marine dining room on the lake side of the hotel where it was found by hotel attendants at 9 p. m.

Revell was head of a large Loop wholesale furniture firm of the same name.

Early police reports did not state whether the fall was an accident or a suicide.

SLEEPER PLANS GIVING RELIEF IN TAXATION

could do to relieve the tax burden.

Total city and county taxes as shown by the 1930 statistical report of the county, amounted to $3,743,901, or $73.71 for every man, woman or child in the county. Sleeper said. In Santa Ana the total collected in 1929-30 was $673,551, a per capita tax of $22.32, he pointed out.

Sleeper's address follows: "Having been your assessor for the past 20 years, I think I am qualified to talk to you in a limited way on this subject—what I say to you will be to try and enlighten you and the people of this county and city on the danger of over burdening our properties with bond issues and special assessment districts.

"We have been educated in the past few years to get what we want by going in debt for everything we need and for a great many things we could not afford. This credit system has done more to cause our economic condition that confronts us today than any one thing. We have been taught to think of the pleasures and comforts of today, forgetting that tomorrow will be pay day, which never fails to come.

"If you could see as I see and hear every day, the pleadings of a great many of our people as to relief from their tax burden! No one is in a better position to know what effect high taxes and assessments has on property, than you realtors; as one of the know things the investor wants to know is, what is the income and the amount of the property, and if you cannot show a reasonable net income, the investor is disinterested at once.

"I am in favor of improvements, but think we should make them as we can afford them. I wish I had the time to give you more of the details on this matter. I will, however, give you a few instances where special assessment districts have virtually confiscated the property. Our neighboring county, San Diego, has a great many of these districts; some rates as high as $143.80 on the $100 assessed valuation. Los Angeles county has some rates just as high. The highest rate in Orange county is $56.00 on the $100 assessed valuation. This goes to show that we are headed in the same direction as our sister counties if we allow it to go on.

"You can see at a glance that no property can stand this burden and the result is the bond holder is finally forced to take the property. We have property in this county that has paved streets, lights, water, fire and sanitary districts, that can be bought for 50 per cent of what it would have sold for three years ago.

"Realizing these conditions I have reduced nearly all of our real estate and all improvements 10 per cent; doing what I can to relieve the tax burden. It is now up to the tax payers to get in touch with the tax fixing bodies of the county, city, school and special districts, explaining their condition and asking them to make their rates as low as possible without stopping any needed improvement.

"From the 1930 statistical reports issued last July, I will give you the following: "Total county and city taxes, $3,743,901, a tax of $73.71 for every person in our county, according to the late census, which gave a population of 113,611.

"The bonded indebtedness of our county is quite small, being only $924,000. Bonded indebtedness of all our county schools, $5,369,000. The bonded indebtedness of Santa Ana being for city, street and acquisition bonds is $2,352,604; interest at 5 per cent, $117,630; school bonds, $1,798,000; interest at 5 per cent, $205,030—making the total bonded indebtedness, $4,150,604; and making the total interest $326,160. Total taxes collected 1929-30, $673,551, making a per capita tax of $22.32 for city government, our population being 30,166, according to late census.

"There has been quite an agitation by certain elements in this county for a revaluation of all our property. As San Diego county has gone through this experiment in the past two years, at a cost to the taxpayers of that county of over $450,000, I will read you a letter from the San Diego county assessor, giving his views on the subject.

"You can draw your own conclusions as to what the taxpayers of San Diego county think of reappraisals by outside parties. "In closing I wish to state that I think the most serious problem that confronts the whole county today is our water situation. If we do not do something in the near future to replenish our underground supply, it will be only a matter of time until we will be pumping salt water from our wells, and eventually our county will go back to a desert. This is a matter that should be taken up by our people as a whole and work out the best solution to overcome this serious situation.

"I thank you for the privilege of coming before you and trust what I have said will be taken in the spirit in which it is intended; that is, to get the people to thinking of a way to better our condition and prepare for the problems confronting us."

Following is the letter from the San Diego county assessor: MR. JAMES SLEEPER, Orange County Assessor, Santa Ana, California.

Enclosed is the schedule of tax rates you requested. As to an outside appraisal firm going to work in your County, I can imagine no greater blight on the county than an appraisal by some outside firm of appraisers. The effect of such an appraisal here in San Diego county was comparable to the freeze in 1913, and the flood of 1916.

In 1928 such an appraisal was made here by the Tax Factors, Inc., a Sacramento firm, headed by Mr. Rankin. I do not especially condemn the firm, but believe the results would have been the same with any such concern.

The main feature of the re-appraisal was an increase in assessed valuations from $140,000,000 in the round numbers to $252,000,000. This 80 per cent increase, almost all of which was entirely unjustified, simply paralyzed our real estate market and we have not recovered from that paralysis yet. I realize that the stock market crash hurt business, but the increase in assessed valuations, which were applied in 1929 aggravated the depression.

The cost of the re-appraisal was $315,000, and this cost itself, was a heavy burden on the tax payers. The increase in assessed valuations was so disheartening to the tax payers that there were 30,000 delinquencies in taxes, our delinquent tax roll filled 70 newspaper pages and cost $21,000 to print.

The Board of Equalization could not take care of the complaints. And mind you, the promoters of the re-appraisal told us that these were just the things that would be done away with.

The re-appraisal was done by 100 men, 60 of whom were local and 40 of whom were brought in from outside. Most of them were raw. The THEORIES they applied to the appraising of real estate were so impractical that thousands of properties were appraised at ten or fifteen times their value. No sensible, practical, EXPERIENCED assessor or appraiser would think for a moment of valuing land as this appraisal firm did. They valued farm lands on a basis of "Ocean view influence" and made many other absurd and ridiculous but value destroying fictitious appraisals. The whole theme of the appraisal was an increase.

But just as the increase was fictitious, so it was unjust and unfair. I am convinced in my own mind that as a rule, those who had the most valuable holdings were favored by lower valuations; for example, although the county as a whole was raised 80 per cent by the former assessor as a result of the Tax Factors appraisal, and some properties were raised in one jump for as much as 1525 percent, one great ranch of 131,000 acres which was generally considered under assessed, was REDUCED 14 per cent and paid less than half the tax it had paid ten years before.

Enclosed you will find an advertisement of lots for sale at $450.00 cash, while it was appraised by the Tax Factors at $1925. In other words, four and one-half times its true value. This is only one instance of hundreds.

Almost every tax payer in the county is dissatisfied, largely because of the universal dissatisfaction with the figures used by the Assessor which were based on those of the Tax Factors, the Assessor was defeated at election time by a tremendous majority.

I have an appalling mess of excessive and unfair valuations to clean up. It will take several years to get on an even keel again.

Meanwhile, one of the most intolerable conditions possible has arisen as an aftermath of the Tax

Factors Inc. That is, a separate appraisal department costing between $40,000 and $60,000 a year, and which is supposed to keep the Tax Factors appraisals up to date. This is an absolute waste of money, because as Assessor, I will not use the figures. The Appraisal Department employs seventeen men at times, which is as many as the Assessor is allowed for regular work. It is under the control of the Supervisor. It has maps, books, appraisals, and other valuable appraisal records, and other valuable and necessary equipment while as assessor, I have none of this data and have no one to make appraisals, nor even auto allowance for my men to check excessive and unfair valuations except as I have as I have appealed to the Board of Supervisors for such funds.

We had first a cost of $315,000, then a cost of $40,000 to $60,000 a year to keep it up to date. This is as much as is allowed the Assessor. No estimate can be made of the damage to be made of the damage done by the Assessor. No estimate can be made of the damage done to the taxpayers by the re-appraisal. Of course, the thing must be experienced to be appreciated. No conception can be given of the havoc wrought in a letter like this. Only an Assessor with the interest of the people at heart can realize what a big task it is to go over the fictitious, unjust, grossly excessive and unfair valuations left in its wake.

As the Assessor is subject to the will of the people, he must assess them on a fair and conservative basis. These appraisal firms take huge fortunes paid them for their work, leave town and have no worries. They have no responsibility to the people. I know that you are sincerely and conscientiously want to do the right thing by the taxpayers of Orange county, and I cannot urge upon you too strongly that any attempt to force such an appraisal by an outside company should be fought to the end by you and your good citizens. No honest man with a knowledge of the facts would favor it. If any of your officials or citizens doubt what I have to say in the matter, just let them make an investigation of what happened here and those who are honestly in favor of such a re-appraisal will be the most opposed to it after they do make such an investigation.

For the good of your county don't ever allow it, notwithstanding the smooth talk of the lobbying promoters who get their fingers in the pot. I cannot condemn such a proposition too much. You may make this letter public if you so desire. I am ready to back it up with the facts. James Hervey Johnson, San Diego County Assessor.

Raymer Speaks At Artesia Meeting

George Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and Charles S. Diggs, of the Los Angeles county planning commission, were principal speakers at a meeting of the Southeast district Chamber of Commerce held Wednesday night in the Women's clubhouse in Artesia.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Vanity and self-respect are mutually exclusive qualities. Whether or not you ever may have been puffed up about your looks, your abilities or your successes, grief and heartache bring you low and you recognize that none of these things, which seemed so precious, are of any avail to ease your pain. Self-respect is as splendid a quality as vanity is cheap. It makes demands upon you and compels you to face your hardship with a courage and a faith and a confidence worthy of a child of God. It insists that you must never give up. Respect yourself too much to whine or to repine because your burden is heavy and your pathway hard. Draw close to your Father and ask Him to help you to prove yourself a worthy son.

ARELLANO—Gabriel Arellano, aged 18 months, child of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arellano, died March 12, 1931. Services were held from the Winsler Funeral home today.

Truman; daughters, Mrs. Ruth Hawkins, Santa Ana; Mrs. Eva Bell, Wilmington; and Mrs. Maud McCalla, Tustin; one son, Matthew Truman, of Tustin, and a brother, J. M. Carson, Santa Ana. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. from Smith and Tutthill's chapel. Interment Fairhaven cemetery.

SUGGESTS AIR RULE WASHINGTON—Maj. Gen. James Fochet, chief of the Air Corps, believes that a rule should be adopted in the United States specifying that aviators spend a certain minimum number of hours in the air in order to retain their licenses. He says that such a rule could keep pilots in the air often and would result in increased safety through keeping aviators acquainted with their planes and the factors making for safe flying.

THREE YEARS IN JAIL PRICE OF PROBATION

After severely censuring Thomas H. Smith, 21, of Tustin, for his actions and lack of interest in the welfare of his family, Judge James L. Allen today granted the youth probation for the period of five years, making as one condition of probation a jail sentence of three years. Other unusual conditions of probation were announced by the court.

Smith, who previously had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of passing a $5 check with intent to defraud, admitted in court today during his hearing for probation, that he had passed a total of 13 checks amounting to $286. The court used strong language in expressing opinion of the defendant, declaring that he was "trifling" and that he had made a success of only one thing in his life—failure.

"You think you can get by without working," Judge Allen stated in his reprimand to the youth. "What you should have had to do is walk five miles to school every day through a heavy snow, then milk six cows, chop a cord of hard wood and slop 40 head of hogs when you get home. Your parents have been too good to you. You have had a chance in this court before and didn't make good. You don't know the value of a dollar and are good for nothing. You have been knocking on the door of San Quentin for some time and it is about ready to open for you. But I am sorry for your wife and child and will grant probation, provided you spend three years in the county jail."

Upon hearing that her husband would have to go to jail, the attractive young wife of Smith jumped to her feet and ran sobbing from the court room.

Judge Allen, however, made conditions of probation so that Smith can get out of jail in a little over a year if he makes good on the program outlined by the court. He is to spend three months in jail, studying. The first book he is to read and report on to the probation department is, "Grim Heaven, a story of prison by an ex-convict. Other books are to be specified by the judge after this one has been completed.

At the end of three months, if Smith has made good on the first conditions, he is to be permitted to work on the jail crew at the county park, and one extra day will be credited to his term for every day so served. If he makes good here, the court ruled, he will be given an opportunity to work during the day and spend nights and Sundays in the jail, and for every dollar he earns and gives to his wife under this arrangement, credit for one day on the sentence will be given. Smith expressed determination to make good under the conditions imposed by the court.

Calvin Coolidge Says . . . . .

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States
NORTH HAVEN, Conn., March 12.—The results of the recent European naval agreement were mostly political. In that field they are important. The great powers finally have reached a definite basis for all naval construction. That is the outstanding fact. After years of effort competition has been limited and perhaps ended. That is an achievement of the first rank. The agreement has not been accomplished without considerable sacrifice of principle. It does not in terms provide for a reduction but for an increase of naval armaments. This may be only a concession to national sentiment. Perhaps the additional tonnage will not be constructed.

For the sake of establishing the principle of limitation and ending competition probably it would be wise for our own government to concur in the agreement if necessary to make it effective. If France increases her submarine fleet we have the same right to build destroyers as an offset that any other nation has. The world has to make slow progress in reversing a policy of ages. But the policy has been reversed. The five powers all have adopted the course charted in the Washington treaty. They will be in better condition to make further progress in the 1932 conference.

OSTEOPATHS STAGE BANQUET MEETING

The Orange County Osteopathic society held its monthly dinner and meeting at the Southern Inn on North Main street last night.

Dr. Paul F. Phares and Dr. Percy Magill were in charge of the program, and obtained Dr. W. Curtis Brigham, of the Monte Eava hospital in Los Angeles as the chief speaker. Dr. Brigham stated that the percentage of cures in cancer cases was about 30 and should be much higher and although there is no definite known cause, there are many contributing factors. The chief of them are now definitely known to be a focus of infection in the body and the future control of cancer will be in prevention, he said.

Those present were Dr. Mary Ruenitz and Dr. W. W. Ilsey of Fullerton; Dr. Mabel Tremaine, Dr. Harriet and Dr. Walter Brigham of Anaheim; Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Leeling, Dr. Julia Heinrichs, Dr. and Mrs. Phares and Dr. Percy Magill, of Santa Ana.

TO SUPPLY BRIDGE BOARDS ON CARS

Following a successful experiment on the Santa Ana line, D. W. Pontius, president of the Pacific Electric, today announced that the railway will supply a lap bridge board to any commuter group wishing to play bridge or other card games during either morning or evening commuting journeys.

Those who wish to while away their travel time may obtain a board by making requests to conductors in charge of their regular cars. After delivered, the board will become a permanent furnishing of the car and be available to the same group each day. Finished in duco green, the board is 13 by 24 inches and fits nicely upon the laps of the four players. The idea originated with a Pacific Electric conductor a few weeks ago, who suggested to a group of his daily travelers that they engage in a game of cards during their journey. Receiving an affirmative answer he was prepared to carry his idea through, pulling a deck of cards from his pocket and supplying a destination sign as an impromptu bridge table. The following day another group asked for a destination sign. The evident pleasure of the two groups demonstrated, the railway management has decided to supply real bridge boards to all who ask for them.

HONOR SOCIETY CONCLAVE WILL BE HELD HERE

Plans were revealed today where by nearly 200 delegates from junior colleges of the state will meet in Santa Ana on May 23, bringing to Santa Ana the first honor society convention in the history of California junior colleges.

TELEPHONE BOOKS UNDER CORNERSTONE

Thirteen telephone directories, listing names of subscribers in Los Angeles county, were among the miscellaneous documents placed in a copper container and sealed beneath the great granite cornerstone of the new state building at Los Angeles on March 5, when Governor Rolph laid the pious block for the building now under construction in the Los Angeles civic center.

Copies of Los Angeles newspapers, plans and sketches of the building and portraits of state and city officials were also placed in the copper box with the telephone directories to give future generations a picture of Los Angeles as it is today.

The telephone listings represented more than $98,852 telephones in Los Angeles county, of which $65,397 are served by the Bell system.

It was reported, there was no evidence against the quartet, which included John C. and Clifford Yeargan, Homer Driver and Charles Williams.

Lock Box Thief Is Active Here

For persistence, you can't beat a lock box thief, least not the one who has been visiting the Motor Transit station. On his first visit he took the entire lock, evidently needing one in his own home. However, he brought it back and has been paying regular visits since. A. M. Thomas, local superintendent of the Motor Transit, has received a letter from the company owning the boxes, that a gang of thieves is making regular rounds of the boxes owned by the company.

Penn De-Emphasis Policy Hits Coan

NEW YORK, March 13.—The University of Pennsylvania's new "de-emphasis" policy in athletics today eliminated Carl Coan, new intercollegiate indoor champion, from the all-star field in the Columbian mile at the Knights of Columbus track and field games at Madison Square Garden Saturday night. Withdrawal of Coan was ordered yesterday by the newly formed Pennsylvania athletic council.

Run-Down, Weak, Nervous?

To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel "like a two-year old" at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just give Tanlac the chance to do for you what it has done for millions. Mrs. Fred Westin, of 887 E. 57th St. North, Portland, Ore., says: "Tanlac cured my stomach trouble completely after three years suffering. It built me up to perfect health, with a gain of 27 lbs. That was two years ago, and I still enjoy the best of health."

Tanlac is wonderful for indigestion and constipation—gas, pains, nausea, dizziness and headaches. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, herbs and barks, nature's own medicines for the sick. The cost is less than 5 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. Your money back if it doesn't help.

SPEAKER URGES PRESERVING OF INDIANS' LORE

Stressing the importance of gathering and preserving American Indian lore before it is too late, Louis A. Youpe, Chippewa Indian from Montana, yesterday made an appeal to members of the Lions club at their meeting held in Ketter's cafe, to aid in preserving Indian traditions, music and languages.

Backed by many prominent men and women of Los Angeles and some of the Eastern cities, the American Ethnological foundation has set to work to revive, record, and preserve the traditions of the North American Indian. Youpe is president of the organization. In his speech, Youpe said, in part: "While there has been some work done in this field, it is of such limited scope that there can be no importance attached to its ethnological significance. We feel that banalities and matters of little worth have been included in former researches, that have desstroyed the true value of these gatherings. In fact, much material which is trivial has been exaggerated into scientific importance. We hope to give to the American public Indian music just as it is rendered by Indians without its customary corruption. On the other hand there has been practically nothing done to preserve the speech of the some 250 tribes, whose languages include more than 60 dialects."

WOMAN RECOVERING FROM BURNS TODAY

Mrs. Ethel Queen, 44, of Glorietta, today was at her home recovering from severe burns received yesterday when her dress caught fire from a gas heater in her home. She was taken to the Orange County hospital soon after the accident, where she received medical aid, and then was taken back home.

Mrs. Queen was dressing a young grandchild on her knee when her dress was ignited. Before her son and daughter could extinguish the flames, she had been badly burned on the legs and on the right side. The child was not injured. Hospital attendants said the woman suffered second degree burns on the right side of her body.

FOOD PARAMOUNT PROBLEM IN INDIA, DECLARES DR. SWARTZ TO UNIVERSITY WOMEN HERE

"The problem of India," said Dr. H. F. Swartz last night "is not a problem of silver or gold or government. It is the problem of mouths to be fed." Dr. H. F. Swartz, president of the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley, addressed the Orange county chapter of the American Association of University Women, and their guests, on the occasion of their annual International Relations banquet at the Ebell clubhouse.

Taking the title of his address from the book "Unhappy India" which was one of the books written to answer Katherine Mayo's volume "Mother India," Dr. Swartz drew upon his experience in traveling thousands of miles about India last year.

"India leaves a heavy shadow of darkness upon the heart. In India one hears no mirthful laughter which is an expression of the spirit's freedom from bondage. It is not because of a lack of humor. It is because India is deeply hurt. The dignity of India is oppressed.

"India is at the point of resentment. India is unhappy because India is poor. And it has become conscious of its poverty and misery as the people of India have made increasing contacts with Western civilization. The unhappiness of India is not a matter of politics. India's opposition to the government is only a manifestation of the people's misery, just as in this country we blame the government for hard times and unemployment and if the government does not give us relief we become resentful.

"The problem of India is one of population. India has 50,000,000 more people than 50 years ago. It is a perfect illustration of the Malthusian law. There are 320,000,000 people in India. The death rate in India is 1,500,000 more than normal. There are too many mouths to be fed from the soil of India.

Ninety-two to 93 per cent of the people in India are rural. Yet the territory in India which is suitable for production is limited. It is decreased by the Himalaya mountains and by deserts. Then there is the matter of drought. There is no Federal Reserve, nor government to help the farmers in India over a period of drought and in one section we visited there had not been a good rain for three years. Furthermore the farmer in India and his family live on what he himself produces as we do here so that when the crops fail they are actually hungry."

Dr. Swartz spoke of an icy antagonism which met a chance reference to Katherine Mayo's book, "Mother India." "Mother India," he was told, "is the worst kind of truth, for it is only part of the truth." By Gandhi it is called "the sewer inspector's report."

Dr. Swartz took up in detail the problem of population in India. In our country there are approximately four generations per century, in India six. In India the productive period for women is 10 years longer than in the west, making it 30 years instead of 20.

The speaker described a visit to a maternity hospital in India and his talk with the doctor. The women who come to that hospital come from families with incomes a little above the average yet the income for most of those families is five dollars per month. "As India has come to see the wealth of the west it has become aware of its own poverty.

"The question naturally arises: Why don't they cure their own problem? Because India is not a nation, not a unit. There are 200 languages in India. There are many castes.

come to guests. Mrs. James Blee, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Corff, played three musical selections as a prelude to the lecture. Mrs. Loyal K. King, chairman of the International Relations section of the Orange County A. A. U. W., introduced the speaker.

Dinner was served by the Sixth Household economics section, of which Mrs. Paul Bailey is chairman. Sweet peas decorated the tables and were arranged in dainty coronas and boutonnieres at each place. Miss Lillian Dickson, of the A. A. U. W., arranged flowers presented from the gardens of the members on the stage of the Peacock room of the Ebell club in which the banquet was served.

Reports Theft Of Checks and Money

American Express company checks worth $300, and $17 in cash were stolen from the clothes of Richard D. Atkins, employee of a carnival here, at the Santa Ana hotel, last night, according to a report filed with the city police.

Court Notes

Directors of the state board of prisons, meeting at San Quentin on March 7, fixed the length of the sentence to be served by Percy F. Hall, sentenced from Orange county on a second degree burglary charge. Hall, who was received at the state penal institution on December 18, 1929, is to stay there for a term of five years, the board decided.

The Farmers and Merchants Savings bank is plaintiff in a suit seeking foreclosure of a mortgage given as security for a promissory note of $3500 in 1926, which has been filed in superior court against Louise A. Eberlein. Property involved is located in Santa Ana.

The jury of 12 men which heard evidence in the trial of Daniel Montoya, charged with a statutory offense, was evenly split at six to six after deliberating over five hours in an attempt to reach a verdict, and was discharged by Judge H. G. Ames at 3:50 p. m. Wednesday. Montoya will be tried again.

A decision of Justice of the Peace A. C. Earley, of Brea township, has been upheld in a decision in superior court entered by Judge G. K. Scovel after hearing evidence in the matter which had been appealed. Parties to the action were Guy S. Curtis, plaintiff, and Hugh R. Williams, et al, defendants. Curtis was seeking judgment of $100.40 and Justice Earley ruled that he take nothing. Judge Scovel also found for the defendant on the grounds that the action had been outlived.

Charging that her husband stayed out late at night without telling her where he was, that he embarrassed her by his conduct with other women at public dances, Caroline M. Meyers filed suit for divorce from Ernest L. Meyers in superior court yesterday. They were married on April 13, 1929, and separated March 4, 1931.

Two persons charged with overtime parking were fined $2 each in the Santa Ana police court yesterday. They were: W. W. George and Max Roger.

Arnold H. Peterson, 26, of Costa Mesa, was booked at the county jail yesterday afternoon on a charge of reckless driving. He was sentenced to serve 50 days or pay a fine of $100, in the Huntington Beach justice court yesterday.

Annulment of the marriage of Dorothy Fisher to William Fisher, which took place at Holbrook, Arizona, on June 15, 1925, is sought in a complaint which was filed yesterday afternoon in behalf of Mrs. Fisher who is under legal age, by John Martell, as guardian ad litem. The complaint states that at the time of the marriage the wife was only 14 years of age and conditions did not exist which would make the marriage legal under the laws of the state.

Charges of desertion and non-support were brought against Russell S. Gilbert by Ruth M. Gilbert in her divorce complaint which was filed in superior court yesterday afternoon. They were married in Tia Juana, Mexico, on September 5, 1928 and separated March 1, 1930.

Judgment of $2000 for asserted failure to fulfill terms of an agreement calling for clearing of certain land and planting same to avocado trees, is asked in a complaint which was filed yesterday afternoon by H. A. Lake and L. F. Howell against R. E. Morgan.

Inventory and appraisal of the estate of Louis Haisch, which was filed today with County Clerk J. M. Backs, shows that assets of the estate amount to $3500.

One of the best known drapery men in Orange county for the past several years, Marshall formerly was connected with the Chandler Furniture company here, later going to Long Beach where he had offices. All kinds of drapery work are done by the Marshall Drapery company and some of the drapery "jobs" in the county recently have gone to the Marshall company, including the lately furnished offices of Dr. R. P. Yaggle, Dr. Robert Gurrie and Dr. Harry Huffman, in a new building at 215 South Main street. Some homes furnished by Marshall recently are the D. G. Kelly home on Lemon Heights, the homes of E. A. Watson, Tustin; C. Roy Browning, at Tustin, S. W. Todd, Orange and W. W. Woods, Santa Ana.

FLYING DISCUSSED FOR COLLEGE GROUP

FULLERTON, March 13.—"Aviation and its Relation to Commerce," was the subject of an address by C. S. Clark, manager of the Western College of Aeronautics, to a large number of students of the Fullerton Junior college last night.

CONTROLLED ROASTING . . . HILLS BROS'
PATENTED CONTINUOUS PROCESS DEVELOPS A WEALTH OF AROMA, FLAVOR AND RICHNESS LACKING IN BULK-ROASTED COFFEE

TO THOSE carefully chosen coffees which make up the Hills Bros. blend, nature has given the utmost in flavor. And to develop that flavor to the fullest extent, Hills Bros. roast their blend by a process that has no equal in exactness.

Evenly . . . continuously . . . a few pounds at a time . . . the coffee passes through the roasters in which the heat is automatically controlled. Every berry is roasted evenly—to a degree that gives Hills Bros. Coffee its ever-satisfying flavor. What's more, it's a flavor no other coffee has because no other coffee is roasted the same way.

Whenever or wherever you buy Hills Bros. Coffee it is always fresh. Hills Bros.' vacuum packing process removes air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, from the can and keeps it out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh.

Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trademark—on the can.

No can of Hills Bros. Coffee will ever "go stale." The vacuum can keeps it FRESH ALWAYS!

BLOOD STAINED HAT CENTER OF MYSTERY HERE

Mystery today surrounds the finding of a man's hat and a black and red handkerchief, blood soaked, in the bushes just off Santiago street, at the Santiago creek, yesterday.

The hat and handkerchief were found by Henry Siefert, of 2543 Santiago avenue, and turned over to the police department. Several officers were sent to the scene of the discovery and a rigid search of the neighborhood was made, but nothing else was discovered.

Chief of Police L. C. Rogers advanced the theory today that the bloody hat and handkerchief were tossed from an automobile as it passed the spot, but no evidence has been unearthed indicating that a crime has been committed, he said.

A man could have been slugged while in a car, or shot or cut, and taken by the spot where the bloody articles were found, Chief Rogers pointed out, but investigation at the place failed to reveal anything to indicate that a man was injured at that place.

The blood on the handkerchief and in the hat was fresh when the articles were found by Siefert yesterday afternoon, indicating that it was spilled not many hours previous to that time.

The hat is a light brown felt hat, commonly worn by a laborer, and there is so much blood inside the crown that there was no way to discover today whether there were any clues inside the band. A number of grey hairs were found mixed in the blood inside the hat, indicating, Rogers said, that the owner was not a young man.

Late News From Orange County Communities

Bright Outlook Seen For County Citrus Industry

CITES FIGURES IN FULLERTON EXCHANGE TALK

FULLERTON, March 13.—Predicting an optimistic future for Orange county citrus growers for the next five years at the very least, and telling of marketing conditions for oranges and lemons as well as offering the first results of the five-year survey of production in Orange county, speakers at the quarterly meeting of packing managers and directors of the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange gave a detailed cross-section of the industry last night in McFarland's cafe. More than 175 men attended the gathering.

"Pessimism should be far from our thoughts when we consider the outlook for the next five years," Dr. H. R. Wellman, extension specialist on agricultural economics, told the citrus men in summing up the results of his survey of the entire industry.

Wellman pointed out unusual economic factors noted in the citrus industry, which had resulted in maintaining an upward trend of prices at the same time that shipments were increased, an effect contrary to the usual workings of the law of supply and demand in any agricultural crop.

Taking figures which he had computed on the citrus industry over a period of the past 20 years, Dr. Wellman declared he had merely taken available facts and interpreted them to the best of his ability.

With these figures, the average price received for oranges over the period of his computations was higher than those for any other commodity, manufactured or agricultural. This was particularly true in the case of the Valencia oranges, the speaker said.

Dr. Wellman issued a definite warning against too extensive planting of Valencia, declaring, "There is always a limit, although we have no way of estimating just where it may be."

He also stated that in his opinion, the peak has been reached in the trend of demand for winter citrus crops, pointing out that in this market is the greatest competition from Florida and other citrus producing centers.

T. H. Powell, lemon sales manager of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, commented upon the effectiveness of exchange advertising in creating a desire for more oranges. He also told of the results being obtained through greater cooperation of growers and marketing organizations possible under the exchange program.

"The public is becoming more orange conscious," Powell said. "Many people in many walks of life are working for us for nothing to increase the demand for oranges by preaching the healthful qualities. Unlike some other fruits, people do not tire of oranges and the demand continues."

Oil Company Buys Lots In H. B. Field

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 13.—Huston, Suter and Huston and O. L. Bolton announce the sale of the south half of four lots at the corner of Seventh and Walnut to the Union Oil company for $11,000 cash. The plot is 100 by 681-2 feet in area and the price is the highest paid for a drill site in the west end town lot field since the old boom days following the first discovery of oil in that area.

SPEAKER GIVES BUILDING AND LOAN HISTORY

FULLERTON, March 13.—History and development of the building and loan associations in America was explained to 100 members of the junior college night school and night law classes last night by Elmer E. Bruce, secretary of the Anaheim Savings, Loan and Building association.

Present methods and operation of the associations were outlined by Bruce, who stated that the fundamental purpose of the associations is to assist prospective home owners to finance improvements on property.

The associations now number more than 13,000 in the United States, Bruce said. The average investment amounts to approximately $1700, making a total investment in the associations of more than nine billion dollars.

That seven out of every 10 persons building homes who borrow money on the structure deal through the building and loan method was his declaration of Bruce, who pointed out that in this method the associations have had a large part in increasing the number of home owners in the country.

Over a period of five years, according to preliminary figures conducted by Harold E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor, in conjunction with the agricultural extension service, is approximately $400 per acre the growers were told last night.

Wahlberg explained that the figures from which the averages were taken represented a wide variety of groves and districts in the county and provided a fair cross section from which to obtain an average.

He pointed out that the proper use of irrigation water was one of the biggest factors in groves showing a high average of production and profit and stressed the fact that a great saving in water is possible in the county if the growers follow the most efficient method.

H. B. TEACHERS PLAN PROGRAM AT CONVENTION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 13.—Plans are under way for a program to be given when the department of visual education, California Teachers' association, southern section, meets in its annual convention at the Huntington Beach elementary school April 10 and 11.

Teachers and supervisors have arranged a series of classroom activities and projects for the Friday morning program which will begin at 9 o'clock and last until lunch time. Each room, from kindergarten through the eighth grade, will show a different problem being developed by students, as well as a fine mounted display of completed hand work. By having the visitors attend the classroom in the morning, an opportunity is given for observing the boys and girls at work on their many interesting activities and for the inspection of the school plant.

The afternoon session from 1 o'clock until 2 will be held in the newly remodeled visual education department and will present new demonstration work by students. This hour will be followed by the business session of the convention.

Friday evening there will be a banquet held at the school cafeteria, followed by a marionette show in the auditorium. The Vera Von Pilot Marionette company will present a program. Saturday morning session will be devoted to the demonstrations given by the visiting visual education departments. A luncheon and round table discussions Saturday afternoon will complete the program of the convention.

Patrons and friends of the Huntington Beach schools are invited to attend all sessions of the convention, to visit the class room activities and exhibits and to join with the schools in making this convention one of interest and value to out-of-town guests.

WATER SYSTEM DESCRIBED FOR BREA CHAMBER

BREA, March 13.—Delegated, he said, as a special representative of Fullerton, Walter Humphries, engineer, spoke before the chamber of commerce here Wednesday on various phases of the Metropolitan Water district project, recommending that Brea also appoint such an agent to attend all pertinent meetings and to study all points of the subject.

Declaring that Southern California must develop adequate water supply or depopulate her territory by more than a million within a five-year period, Humphries stated that the present rate of water depletion is represented by the consumption of 200,000 per acre annually. Industrial expansion, increase in population, security of investments in every line depend wholly, he said, upon sufficient water supply for the country.

The initial cost for Brea to enter the water district project, Humphries said, would be in the neighborhood of $900, based on the city's assessed valuation of $1,300,000 as against that of $200,400,000 for cities already in the water district.

Carrying costs, he said, would be about $1 per year per capita, and operating costs about 1-1/2 per cent per year per capita. The longer the matter of entry is delayed the greater the cost in deferred payments, he declared, and the greater the chance that members already in the district may feel that they can use all available water and that districts which had not assisted during the formative period should not be considered.

The distribution system, he said, is now being planned and districts not now or soon to be included in the project would find it necessary to lay further pipe lines at a possible heavy increase in the cost.

H. A. MacClatchie and W. D. Shaffer both spoke briefly in favor of immediate action. President Harlan LeGro suggested that a permanent committee be appointed from the chamber to meet with the city council in that body's effort to arrive at a definite conclusion on the matter.

Mr. Shaffer suggested that the name of Cedar street be retained until such time as the proposed Imperial highway is assured. An action had previously been taken to change the name to Imperial highway.

The recent change in schedule of the Motor Transit company, particularly as it affects traffic in the evening hours, came in for a lively discussion, it being the consensus of opinion that community growth and social activities are dependent upon transit facilities and that the present schedule will work a severe hardship.

L. M. Hopper, secretary of the La Habra Chamber of Commerce, was present to protest the new arrangement and to ask the co-operation of the Brea chamber in presenting a complaint to the transit company's officials. H. A. MacClatchie, L. A. Hogue and C. O. Harvey were named a committee from the Brea body. Mr. MacClatchie also agreeing to secure a committee from the Yorba Linda chamber to assist in the matter.

Two industrial firms, the Brea Canyon Oil company and the Orange County Ice company, were added to the membership of the chamber, bringing the total roll up to 108 members.

New Medicine Drives Rheumatic Poisons From Joints and Muscles.

Poisons in the blood settling in the joints and muscles cause rheumatism. You cannot get rid of rheumatism until every trace of these dangerous poisons is driven out of your system. That's why external remedies and pain-deadening drugs only give temporary relief.

OPEN BIDS ON LAGUNA BEACH FIRE STATION

LAGUNA BEACH, March 13.—John G. Schleicher was lowest bidder for the contract for the building of the fire station for the city on his bid finally figured by Architect Aubrey St. Clair at $9409 by the city council Wednesday evening. Next was the bid of Smith Brothers, just $6 greater.

Two other bidders were only a dollar apart. Eight bids were opened, the above being the only local ones. Final award is subject to placing of bonds.

Agreement to purchase street machinery, first reading of the amendments to the electrical and plumbing ordinances, final reading of the ordinance prohibiting the sale or use of fireworks within the city, and the adoption of a motion picture against Assembly Bill No. 1861 defining boundaries of the Santa Ana watershed were the chief other pieces of business.

Plumbers made no move against the amended ordinance, but Councilman Frank E. Champion protested against omission of the bonding clause. With Councilman George W. Wilson he voted against the amendment. Councilmen M. B. McMillon, C. R. Clapp and Mayor J. E. Bishop, however, carrying it to a third reading.

Purchase of a tractor and graduate for a price totaling $3879.35 on a rental lease contract, payments of $265.29 over 15 months was agreed, with final action in a week.

Ployd Case, building and electrical inspector, was made plumbing inspector at a salary of $150 a month for the consolidated positions.

Garbage and trash hauling bids were asked again, as these had been no agreed standard of the service to be performed. Bids will be opened next Wednesday.

SAYS TRAFFIC MEN SEEK TO CUT ACCIDENTS

BREA, March 13.—Not an imposing number of arrests for traffic violations, but a sharp decrease in the number of accidents is the chief aim of traffic officers making up the Orange county highway patrol, according to Capt. Henry Meehan, who spoke here yesterday to Brea Lions.

Meehan declared himself opposed to any raising of speed limitations. He said the safety committee, of which he was a member, had voted almost unanimously against dispensing with speed regulations. In states in which this course has been adopted, reckless driving is the charge preferred by traffic officers though the speed may have been five miles or a hundred miles.

Patrolman George Peterkin gave a demonstration of the Ju Jitsu, a method now being taught guardians of the peace in handling of unruly offenders of the law. Peterkin handled big and little, Ed Curtis and Jerry Bennett submitting to his persuasion as readily as did Ralph Barnes.

A brief report on the activities of the Campfire Girls, in charge of Mrs. John Cox, was made by Dorothy Reardon and a report from the Little Brea girl who is being kept at the Orange county health camp through means provided by the Lions club indicated that she is contented and improving rapidly.

Vincent Jaster, principal of the Brea grammar school, was given a formal initiation into the club. Ed Peterkin, program chairman for the day, was unable to be present and L. A. Hogue officiated.

President C. O. Harvey announced that on next Monday night the Brea Lions will be hosts to the county council of Lions, the meeting to be held in the American Legion hall, opening with a dinner to be served by the Legion auxiliary.

Lewis, and J. A. Olson will review some of the bills which are now before the legislature, affecting agriculture.

Could Write a Book About It

"Nine years ago after my little girl was born dead, I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about four months. The next year I became the mother of a fine 11 pound baby boy. After he was born, I kept on with the medicine to build me up. Four months ago I was nervous and rundown and suffered from other troubles which I knew Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would relieve so I started taking it and now I feel fine again. Many of my friends could write a book on the good the Vegetable Compound has done them."—Mrs. W. ## EXPERTS SPEAK AT SESSION OF AVOCADO MEN

The avocado school held in La Habra for two days was declared a decided success by the growers and others interested in avocado culture. The school was part of the University of California extension work.

Charles L. Lewis, of Los Angeles county, was chairman of the morning session Wednesday, and J. N. Thill, of Ventura county, was chairman in the afternoon.

W. T. Horne, associate pathologist of the citrus experiment station at Riverside, gave a progress report on avocado disease investigations. He stated that there were a number of diseases of the avocado on which definite progress had been made, among these are tip burn, carapace spot, sun blotch and surface rot. There are a number of diseases of the fruit on which little progress has been made but which remain a problem, he said.

S. H. Beckett spoke on irrigation requirements and C. V. Newman, manager of the San Joaquin Fruit company at Tustin, spoke on pruning. He urged gradual pruning and not a decided pruning for the trees. Several avocado trees of various varieties were presented to the United States Entomology laboratory at Whittier with the complaints of the La Habra Chamber of Commerce. Trees were donated by P. J. Weisel, of La Habra; Carter Barrett, of Puente; H. P. Weber, of La Habra Heights, who also presented a cherimoya tree; F. D. Halm and Ray Marsh, all of La Habra.

At the close of the session a tour through La Habra Heights was provided by the chamber of commerce for the visitors from various parts of Southland.

One of the chief speakers at the morning session was J. B. Brown, extension specialist in irrigation, Agricultural Extension service, University of California.

NEW KILLIFER SCHOOL READY AFTER EASTER

ORANGE, March 13.—With the opening of school following the Easter vacation, March 28 to April 5, it is expected that the newly erected Lydia Killifer school will be occupied by pupils of the present school of this name, which was for many years known as the old Lemon street school and which is the oldest school in the city.

The school, which will be finished this week, was named in honor of Miss Lydia Killifer, who has been principal of the school for 36 years. During all of that time, with the exception of one year when she taught pupils of the second grade, Miss Killifer has welcomed the pupils of the first grade into the school and their staunch ally in the days when the school world seems a big and fearsome place to small boys and girls.

Miss Killifer is the only principal in Orange county whose name is inscribed on the school building over which she presides. A farewell party to the pupils who have attended the old school is to be held before the building is out in sections and removed to Cypress street, where it is to be used as a part of a building for Mexican scholars.

Each year since Miss Killifer assumed the principalship of the school there have been 80 or 95 new pupils to enter the first grade. When the school was the only one in the city the average attendance in this grade was much larger and the enrollment sometimes reached as high as 60. Allowing an average of 43 for each year of the 36 years, it will be found that more than 1500 Orange children have made their entrance into educational circles through the doorway and over the worn sills of the old school house.

When Miss Killifer first was principal of the school, a single separate room was used for the first grade and the school itself had but four rooms, two on the first floor and two on the second. Later, four more rooms were added to the east of the building. The old coal-burning stoves used in the school are still utilized and have been brought up to date by the installation of gas.

Well known Orange county lawyers, doctors, bankers and business men recall the old school which they attended, with affection and the Rev. Robert Williams, a prominent eastern pastor, who attended the school until a few years ago still wrote to Miss Killifer of his work.

The old bell, which summoned the children of the school for many years, has been removed to the new building which is the only city school here to boast of such an ornament. The bell weighs 970 pounds with frame.

Miss Killifer estimates that she has been presented with thousands of apples and that the bouquet of flowers which adorned her desk yesterday was probably one of the 10,000 she has received in the course of her career.

Graduating exercises were held in the old school which formerly held all of the grades including the ninth. When pupils finished this grade, if they wished to continue their studies, they went to the Santa Ana high school, which was located where the Y. M. C. A. building now stands.

Teachers of the school will hold a covered dish dinner in the school Tuesday as a farewell event.

OBSERVE 33RD ANNIVERSARY OF ORANGE O. E. S.

ORANGE, March 13.—One of the most colorful and delightful occasions for members of Scepter chapter, O. E. S., was the observance of the 33rd anniversary of the organization of the lodge, which took place last night at the Masonic hall. More than 150 were present to share the impressive event.

A 6:30 o'clock dinner was served and the 15 tables were decorated in pastel tints. Attractively combined spring blossoms were used as the centerpiece for the tables and the flowers were in orchid, blue, pink and yellow. Graceful tapers in these colors were used to light the room and candy baskets carried out the chosen color motif.

When the ice course was served, each person was served an individual cake centered with a tiny candle, and these candles were lighted by the host who presided at each table.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. William Knuth, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Meller, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Murphy, Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Smith, Mrs. Mae Whitlits and Mrs. W. B. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Halleck, Miss Dorothy Gruwell and Miss Louise Dewa, Harry Adams and Mrs. Carrie Love, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Evans, Mrs. Lillian Bishop and Mrs. Augusta Hayes, and Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Wetlin. Mrs. Fae Short was the hostess in general charge of the affair.

Presiding over the table meeting which followed the dinner was Mrs. Beas Stuckey, worthy matron, and the initiation of two candidates was in charge of the worthy patron, R. C. Bunch. Mrs. Amber Burke, district deputy, who was a guest of honor, was escorted to the east and the 33 past matrons and patrons who were present also were escorted to the east.

The only living charter member of the order, Mrs. Rebecca Lebraum, was presented with a beautiful basket of flowers. Mrs. E. J. Browne, who is a past matron of Scepter chapter, gave a most interesting history of the forming of the chapter here and its subsequent activities. Mrs. Browne related that the first chapter meetings had been held in an old building which stood on the site now occupied by the First National bank.

Mrs. Browne said: "The Order of the Eastern Star is the largest organization in the world to which women belong. The membership is in excess of 2,000,000 and Scepter chapter for 33 years has added her number to the grand total."

"After the Masonic lodge in Orange had been in operation for a year the need of an O. E. S. chapter was realized. A group of Masons met February 5, 1898, in the Presbyterian church for a preliminary meeting to ask for a dispensation to form a chapter. Another meeting was held four days later and a third meeting was held on February 23 at the residence of Dr. D. S. Royer."

Two names were suggested for the new chapter, Golden Poppy and Scepter, and Scepter was selected. On March 11, 1898, the grand matron, assisted by the grand conductress and Hermosa chapter of Santa Ana, called a meeting and instituted Scepter chapter.

The following morning the officers selected met at the Palmyra hotel and the brand matron instructed them in the work of the order.

"On April 2, 1923, the chapter room was moved to the present Masonic temple. Mrs. Gail Young, worthy matron, and Lewis W. Thompson, worthy patron, had led members into our new quarters. Our membership is now 251."

EQUIPMENT FOR SANTIAGO DAM SENT TO SITE

ORANGE, March 13.—Two pieces of equipment were taken through the city to the site of the Santiago dam yesterday and it is expected that more will be added each day. Scrapers and rollers are now being used in preparation for starting the work to be completed November 30 by R. G. Tournear, contractor, of Stockton.

John F. Johannsen, Glendale engineer, is in charge of the present crew employed in preliminary operations. The first equipment to be used in constructing the dam which is to cost an excess of half a million dollars, will include steam shovels and bull dozers.

According to Johannsen, when work is fully under way, two shifts of men will be employed, a day force and a night force. About 100 men are to complete each shift. D. W. Albert is the resident engineer.

The construction of the dam will insure about 5000-acre feet of water per year for the El Modena-Villa Park district from the flood waters stored in the dam in addition to the normal gravity water.

Plans for the dam have been underway for the past 20 years.

Oil Pipe Firm Returns to Brea

BREA, March 13.—An interesting bit of news in oil and industrial circles of Brea and vicinity is the fact that the Bailey Pipe works, an industry originating in Brea some years ago, is again at its old location on North Orange street.

This shop is being moved here from Santa Fe Springs field, while the firm has been operating for the past two years or more. Machinists and workmen are now busy setting up machinery and making some changes in the shop building preparatory to starting a crew to work.

Oil operators have been obliged to haul their pipe several miles to secure service rendered by the firm. Charles C. Croble, a Brea machinist, heads the company.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT

FIVE million modern mothers will tell you that children DO cry for Fletcher's Castoria. For mothers always give a few drops of this pure vegetable preparation when a child has any of the symptoms that tell of sluggish bowels, colic, or other upsets. When tiny tongues are coated and breath is bad. When a child is restless; irritable. Always soothing and comforting to an infant—yet it is effective for children in their teens. You never have to coax children to take Castoria; they love its taste.

Be ready for the next case of sour stomach, constipation, or other need for Castoria!

When buying look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on wrapper.

Plan $1,500,000 Electric Substation Near Stanton

TO CONSTRUCT TRANSMISSION LINES AT ONCE

Orders for 4000 tons of structural steel for a $1,500,000 major transmission line construction project in Los Angeles and Orange counties, and other lines elsewhere in Southern California, were placed by the Southern California Edison Company Ltd., yesterday with California steel companies.

Fred B. Lewis, vice president and assistant general manager of the Edison company, announced that the major project would be started immediately and would provide work for 200 men for six months. An additional 300 men in the steel industry will be engaged for a like period of time on fabrication of the steel towers required for the lines.

Construction of the transmission lines originally was planned for 1932, Lewis said, but the company's program was advanced in order to enable the company to take advantage of the present price of steel and to keep workmen busy.

The transmission lines will be built to extend the Edison company's 220,000 volt and sub-transmission system into old established territory where the growth of demand for electric services has been given impetus by domestic, agricultural and industrial developments. Fifteen miles of multiple circuit, steel tower lines will be constructed to form a connection between the company's Lighthouse substation and the Stanton substation, the latter scheduled for construction next year. The Lighthouse station is between Long Beach and Compton. The projected Stanton station will be built at a cost of $1,500,000 on a site near Stanton station, two miles west of Anaheim in Orange county. In addition, fifteen miles of sub-transmission line will be built to distribute energy from the Stanton station to points in Orange county and to establish new connections with other major switching stations in the southeastern section of the Edison company territory in Southern California.

The Stanton substation and

LEGIONNAIRE

Floyd Howard, shown here, announced today that he will seek election as chief of police in Santa Ana. Formerly a member of the city police force, and chief criminal deputy sheriff of Orange from 1927 until the first of this year, Howard has been identified with law enforcement here since 1925.

FLOYD HOWARD CANDIDATE FOR POLICE CHIEF

Floyd W. Howard, former chief criminal deputy sheriff of Orange county, today announced his candidacy for the office of Chief of Police of Santa Ana.

Howard, who has had years of experience as both a city and county peace officer, declares in his announcement that his decision to seek the office is in no way to be considered a personal fight with the incumbent.

In 1925 Howard was appointed a member of the Santa Ana police force and for two years held that post. In the summer of 1927 he was appointed chief criminal deputy sheriff and continued in that office until the first of this year.

Howard is a member of the Santa Ana Post of the American Legion. During the World War he served in the U. S. Marine corps and at the expiration of the war was placed on inactive duty as a lieutenant, which commission he now holds.

During the four years Howard was connected with the sheriff's office his duties consisted of supervision of all criminal work. The majority of all raids conducted during the period of 1927-1930 were under Howard's personal supervision. In that time more than 600 violators of the liquor laws of the state and nation were brought to justice. This number of arrests was effected through the efforts of but four men connected with the sheriff's office.

In announcing his candidacy Howard said:

"I am announcing my candidacy for chief of police of Santa Ana only after considerable deliberation. I realize the task ahead of me should I be elected and am prepared to give my best efforts to the work. I believe there is room for improvement and more efficiency in the conduct of the Santa Ana force.

"I further believe that there should be a closer contact between the police department and the merchants and citizens of the city. With a little effort, rightly directed, this can be accomplished and would prove beneficial both to the department and the people, whose safety is the paramount duty of every officer. Particularly is it the duty of the chief to see that no partiality nor favoritism is shown to any one person or group.

"I am 36 years of age, born and raised in Missouri and came to Santa Ana in 1921 and married a Santa Ana girl, Inez Cooley, the same year. I have two children and am a property owner and expect to make Santa Ana my home for all time.

"Should I be successful at the polls on April 13, I promise to give my best efforts to the duties that devolve upon the office of chief of police."

TO PLAY IN SANTA ANA

The Beverly Hill Billies, shown here, will play and sing at the Santa Ana High school auditorium next Monday at 4 p. m. and again at 8:15 p. m., coming under the auspices of the Forty et Eight. The afternoon appearance has been planned particularly for children. While in Santa Ana it is expected that the Hill Billies will be given a thrill at the Eddie Martin airport, where they will be guests on an airplane ride at 2:30 p. m. At 6:30 p. m. the entertainers will be guests of the Forty et Eight at dinner in the Santa Ana cafe.

CRITICISM OF METROPOLITAN WATER DISTRICT NOT SINCERE SAYS FINLEY IN CLUB SPEECH

Criticism of the Metropolitan Water district on the grounds that it "has no title" to Colorado river water, is not sincere and has some ulterior motive, according to declarations of Col. S. H. Finley, Santa Ana's director on the Metropolitan district board, in an address yesterday noon before the Santa Ana Lions club at Ketter's cafe.

The district has the best title, district should do so soon, he said, because the time will come when the doors will be closed to them. The per capita cost of the Metropolitan system was cited as $100, as compared with a cost of $144 for each person in Los Angeles for building the aqueduct, now reduced to $30 per capita by a great increase in population.

The volume of water to be brought into Southern California was likened to a stream as wide as Fourth street, and 19 feet high, flowing at the rate of a foot per second. Santa Ana is entitled to one per cent of this water—15 second feet—which is enough to care for a population of 75,000 people, the speaker said.

While finding no fault with the prime objects of the bill now in the legislature to create a water saving and replenishment district in Orange county, the bill takes in entirely too much territory, Col. Finley declared, and attempts to do a gross injustice to Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton, which cities are already in the Metropolitan district, as well as other cities which may later become a part of the Metropolitan district. The assembly bill, if passed, might cause some communities to lose out entirely on water by keeping them out of the Metropolitan district until the water is all allocated.

Col. Finley also characterized as a "foolish statement" a paragraph appearing in The Register of Wednesday in a communication by Horace Head, stating that no one knows what the Colorado river will cost, whereas, he said, $200,000,000 has been spent investigating the project, and the cost estimates represent the united judgment of the best engineers in the United States, with more experience with such projects than any others.

The importance of getting the Colorado river water was emphasized by the speaker by the statement that more than one-half of the water stored in the underground basin of the Santa Ana river has been pumped out through increased needs of the past 25 years, and there is not enough rainfall in Southern California to take care of even present needs.

The Metropolitan district as now constituted includes a valuation of $2,500,000,000, and a population of 2,000,000 people, Col. Finley said, and is thus in a position to carry out its water project without the addition of any new territory. Any other districts wishing to join the

PRISONERS AT LOCAL BASTILE ENJOY SPORTS

Prisoners in the Orange county jail today were enjoying a new freedom after Jailer Theo. Lacy Jr., turned a number of them out into the open court in the center of the jail for exercise.

Handball, basketball and other games are to be played by the prisoners each day in the future. The top of the court has been wired, guaranteeing that the prisoners will remain for the games and with this safety device completed, it is the intention of Sheriff Logan Jackson to give the prisoners daily exercise.

Prisoners in two tanks each day will benefit by the new arrangement, each group to have 30 minutes of exercise per day, Jailer Lacy announced.

At the same time, it was announced that athletic instructors at the Santa Ana High school would give an hour of their time each day in instructing the men in the games and acting as supervisors for the athletics.

STUDENTS WILL TAKE PART IN NEWS MEETING

Accepting invitations to attend the ninth annual Newspaper Day at the University of Southern California tomorrow, nine delegates from the Journalism department of the Santa Ana Junior college and High school will go to Los Angeles for the news conclave.

Four students representing El Don, Jaycee weekly newspaper, four staff members of The Generator, high school paper, and Edgar M. Flowers, adviser of both publications, will make the trip. Those planning to attend are Richard Robbins, El Don editor-in-chief, Paul Wright, managing editor, John "Sky" Dunlap, former El Don editor, Russell Sullivan, sports editor, Lillian Hurwitz, Generator editor-in-chief, Flora Parks, associate editor, Bernice Rankin, staff editor and Bill Gibbs sports editor.

Among speakers at the convention will be Henry Raymond Judah, president of the California Publishers' association and publisher of the Santa Cruz News; Frank C. Tooton, vice-president of U. S. C.; Chester G. Hanson, special assignment reporter of a Los Angeles morning newspaper, and Col. Samuel McClure, president of the Southern California Newspaper's association.

A recent edition of The Generator has been entered in the Class B competition for the best all around high school newspaper. In 1929, The Generator received first prize under the editorship of Dunlap.

Students can speak on any topics that interest them. Fullerton, Long Beach, Pasadena, Compton, Los Angeles, and Santa Ana all have schools represented in the meet.

CHOOSE JAYCEE DELEGATE FOR ORATORY MEET

With definite plans completed for Santa Ana Junior college's entry in the fourth annual oratorical contest of the Southern California Junior College association, Robert dePree, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. dePree, of San Juan Capistrano, will represent that institution at Fullerton on March 22 when contestants from all over the Southland will meet to ply their forensic abilities, it was announced today by Sheldon M. Hayden, Jaycee debate coach.

DePree was chosen as the result of an elimination contest held Thursday afternoon at the college. His chosen topic was "Youth, Prohibition, and the Constitution," and Edward Conner, his only rival contestant, spoke on "India." Although his second year in college, this is dePree's first year in Santa Ana Jaycee and he plans to spend another two semesters here before going on to U. S. C. where he will specialize in theatrical producing.

Each year the Southern California Junior College association sponsors this contest, and the en-

Prevalence of Irish Theme Is Marked At Meeting

Members of Emma Sansom chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, held a most interesting meeting yesterday afternoon when they were guests of Mrs. J. W. Taylor, 418 West Santa Clara avenue, with Mrs. H. E. McCormac of the Joseph Le Conte chapter of Berkeley as a special guest. Assisting as co-hostesses were Mrs. Clara Duggan and Mrs. C. C. Violet.

Bouquets of spring flowers intermingled with much greenery provided a setting for the social afternoon, with the program in charge of Mrs. Cornelia Phillips. She gave a short sketch of the life of Paul Hamilton Haines of Charleston, S. C., known as the poet laureate of the south, reading several of his poems. Poetry written by his son, William Hamilton Haines, was read by Mrs. Rebecca Pope.

Each of the guests present took part in the program by contributing an Irish joke. Miss Louise Montgomery followed with three delightful Irish songs, "Irish Folk Song," "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and "A Little Bit of Heaven." A short business meeting was held, and with the conclusion of the afternoon the hostess trio served refreshments in keeping with the St. Patrick's day motif.

Congregational Church Offers Setting For Morning Wedding

A springtime wedding of interest was that of Miss Elsie Jaenicke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Jaenicke of Alma, Neb., and Sherman L. Lamun, son of Mrs. Nora Lamun, of Orange, the ceremony taking place Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock in the First Congregational church of this city with the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, officiating.

The lovely bride was gowned in egg shell satin cut princess fashion, its graceful skirt falling to ankle length. Her hat was in the same tint and the beautiful strand of pearls she wore, was a gift from the bridegroom. Other dress accessories were in harmonizing colors and she wore a corsage bouquet of orange blossoms and sweetpeas.

Miss Marie Jaenicke, sister of the bride, served as honor maid and was most attractive in poudre blue chiffon and a picture hat of egg-shell lace. She also wore a corsage of sweet peas. Ray Uecker assisted Mr. Lamun as best man.

The bride has been a resident of Orange for several years where she was employed at the Hart Dry Goods company, and the bridegroom is employed at the Santa Ana-Tustin Mutual Citrus association.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at La Casa del Camino, Laguna Beach. Spring blossoms were used to adorn the tables and the breakfast was served by the soft glow of lighted tapers in pastel tints.

The young people expect to establish their home in Santa Ana on their return from a honeymoon trip.

Hollister followed with an original story of a New England family, titled "Pictories."

Incidents of her childhood were given by Mrs. O. I. Northrup. Preceding these interesting talks luncheon was served, and brightening the table were bouquets of sweet peas and old-fashioned pink flowers from the gardens of the S. H. Finley home. Table discussions were given by Mrs. Carl Mock, Mrs. J. A. Vogel and Miss Barbara Johnson. The president, Mrs. Major Anderson, conducted the short business session.

Young L. A. Artist Entertained Here

Gordon L'Allemagne, former staff artist on the Los Angeles Times, was overnight guest yesterday of Frederick Elliott, 821 Riverside avenue, returning this morning to his home in Los Angeles. L'Allemagne's picture, "El Gaucho," took one of the four merit awards in the current competition for American painters at the Los Angeles museum, an exhibition in which several Laguna Beach artists were represented by interesting canvases. Santa Ana will be interested in knowing that a second of the coveted awards, was made to Katherine Keele of Monrovia for her painting, "Eagle Dance."

Miss Skeele was one of the little group of modernists holding a first exhibition in this city a few weeks ago, with Miss Jean Goodwin, Robert Gilbert and Arthur Ames as local artists represented. The exhibition is to find place at the Los Angeles public library beginning April 1. Outstanding among the canvases shown by her in this city, was "Indian Portrait."

Breaking China—and Temper

Yesterday, repression of all emotion in a child and the attendant results was discussed, and I thought that most of us came to the conclusion that a child should be AND heard, his opinions given courteous hearing, and his conversation gently directed into the right way.

I can readily sympathize with the child who lives under the old rule, who must grin and bear it, a child that was much the same in my own home, but being a revolutionary turn of mind, I worked out my own salvation in his manner.

Back of the house was a large at rock and on it all the broken china and glass was thrown. When became unduly riled, and a croquet mallet bent over my opponent's head was barred, I escaped my "storm cellar" and there with a hunk of rock in my dirty fist, I pounded that broken china to dust, and with it went my temper.

Presently, age and discretion came to my rescue, and of my second I curbed that hot temper. Looking back on those years seems significant that I can hunt on my 10 fingers all the umps I have ever had, and none of the childish diseases touched me except a mild case of measles, although I was exposed to the whole calendar, from diphtheria on down.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Frozen Bananas
12 well ripened bananas
1 cup powdered sugar
Juice of 1 lemon
Juice of 1 orange
1 cup whipping cream
2 egg whites beaten stiff pinch of salt
12 drops of almond extract

When the fruit man comes your way with his load of "banan," don't turn up your aristocratic nose at the runty black skinned variety he is apt to offer you, for that is exactly what I want you to buy and use for making this cream. When the small variety of banana is spotted and black in places (its skin, I mean) it is just ripe enough to be digestible.

Chill the bananas, peel and mash well with a fork, adding the lemon juice as you proceed, to keep them from blackening. When well pulped, work in the cup of sifted sugar, add a pinch of salt, the almond extract, and fold in the stiffly whipped egg whites.

The use of the egg whites cuts the whipping cream smack in two, y'know, to say nothing of the cut in fat calories. Next step is to whip the chilled cream, and fold it, with the orange juice, into the

ELISSA LANDI IN DEBUT HERE AT WEST COAST

Elissa Landi, ravishingly beautiful new romantic star and latest "find" by Fox, gives Santa Ana theater audiences its first peek of herself today, when her great picture, "Body and Soul," with Charles Farrell, opens today at the Fox West Coast theater for a three day run.

The picture opened in Los Angeles yesterday and thousands acclaimed the new star last night. Born in Venice, Miss Landi is English. She studied for the Russian ballet for three years and is an accomplished dancer. She also is known as an authoress, having written two books published in England which were widely read.

Having taken the English stage by storm, she quickly was signed for stage productions in America and her acting in "A Farewell To Arms" on Broadway, made her famous here. Personality is the key to her success, but she has beauty, grace and a talent for acting that is sure to make her one of the screen's biggest stars.

Harrison Fisher says of the new find: "Elissa Landi mirrors storm and sunshine. Her figure fascinates. Her beauty captivates," and Elinor Glynn says: "Elissa Landi knows instinctively what to do. She is the ideal screen type, so charming and intelligent. Above all, she has personality."

A story with many twists and turns is "Body and Soul." A war drama, dealing with the war birds of the sky, it is powerful and entertaining throughout. Farrell gives a good performance, but the picture belongs to Elissa Landi because she makes it from the first scene to the fadeout.

NEW WESTERN NOW AT WALKER STATE

A thrilling talkie play of the plains, "Trails of the Golden West," will be shown at Walker's State theater beginning today. Buffalo Bill Jr. and Wanda Hawley are co-featured in this production.

The story involves the overland journey of a covered wagon train crossing the great plains and desert waste in the early forties. The film is packed with suspense and many exciting incidents which depict the many hardships encountered by frontiersmen along the trails that led to the golden west. It's a story of combat to win against redskins on the war path, white renegades and the ever present fear of dry water holes.

The bill opens with Duke Art, clay model artist in an usual act. Harry Von Fossen, old time black-face comedian is seen in a monologue; Bob Petticoord and company is an act that is well liked over the circuit. It is called "School Days." In this act also will be seen and heard Glenn Rayhawk, of KREG radio station, who has a musical saw act; Ballaca and Chang return to Santa Ana for another engagement. This is an act that scored heavily here before and the return is made by requests to the management.

The final act is that of Gaynor and Bryson, one of the fastest acrobatic dancing acts in Southern California.

RESTAURANT SERVICE

Human nature is always in quest of something different and this is just as true of food as it is of the new dress Milady purchases. The restaurateur can appeal to the customer's demand for something new by serving his food the honey way—at least some of the honey specialties.

Honey is our oldest sweet—your patron has been acquainted with honey from his boyhood—there is a memory compelling quality in the word honey. Combine new uses for our oldest sweet and catch the interest of your patron both ways.

Today honey is hardly more than a happy memory in many restaurants. Perhaps that's the reason for many references to restaurant food as having the meal-ticket type of taste.

"Home-cooked taste" is the type sought for and American Honey Institute suggests just a few honey combinations that register 100 per cent not only in flavor rating but in health value.

A customer started right in the morning will return for lunch and dinner.

A honeyed grapefruit will do it!

Honeyed Grapefruit
Half the grapefruit, remove core, and divide sections as usually prepared. Drizzle* over the fruit 2 or 3 tablespoons honey. Let stand 15 to 30 minutes before serving. May be prepared the night before. The sections may be removed from the shell drizzled* with honey and served in sherbet or fruit bowls.

*Drizzling Honey***
To successfully use honey one must learn how to drizzle it for you will notice these recipes call for honey to be drizzled. Honey drizzled is better than honey poured for a little gives just the sweetness desired and intensifies natural flavors—a lot of thick honey poured on makes any dish too sweet.

Warm honey is thin and drizzles perfectly. Place the honey jar in WARM—not hot water for about 10 minutes before using. When you are ready to flavor the food, the honey is just the right consistency to drizzle tiny threads instead of pouring a heavy stream. Take whipped cream, for instance, so often used in the restaurant as a topping and garnish. The color effect is beautiful when whipped cream is left unsweetened and honey drizzled instead. Trickle tiny golden threads about the whipped cream and watch your customers' faces light up with satisfaction when they take the first taste.

Honey Cinnamon Toast
Honey Cinnamon Toast is delightful for afternoon tea. Spread slices of toast with butter, drizzle warm honey over buttered toast and sprinkle with cinnamon. About 1 tablespoonful of honey is required for one slice.

Honey Pecan Toast
Spread slices of toast with butter, then with paste of honey and pecans. To make paste mix 1-2 cup chopped pecans with 1-2 cup warm honey. The toast may be cut in strips and served cold with fruit salad.

Basic Honey Muffin Batter
Small—
1 egg beaten
2 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons honey
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
4 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder

Large—
4 eggs beaten
1-2 cup shortening (1-4 lb.)
1-2 cup honey
1-12 tablespoon salt
3 quarts milk
6 cups flour (2 lbs.)
6 tablespoons baking powder.

Blend egg, shortening, and honey on Speed 1 of Electric mixer. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with milk to honey egg mixture. Let beat until mixture is smooth and creamy. Pour in well greased muffin tins and bake in hot oven (425 deg. F.) for 30 minutes. Serve hot with honey. Yield: Small—24 muffins. Large 100 muffins. After batter has been poured in muffin tins, drop two or three pecans, or two halves of date, or pieces of cherries, figs, pineapple, etc., in each muffin.

Honey Baked Apples
Bake apples with bit of water until tender. Remove from oven, drizzle honey over hot apples. The hot apples will readily absorb the honey and by the time of serving the honey will have permeated the apple tissues and blended to form a perfectly delightful flavored dish. The following recipe is also for honeyed apples:

Six tart apples, 2 cupfuls warm honey, 1-4 cupful dates, 1-4 cupful chopped walnuts. Wash and core apples, place in casserole and fill cavities with mixture made as follows: Blend chopped dates and nuts and 1-2 cup honey, pour the remaining 1-2 cupfuls honey over all and bake until apples are perfectly tender. Keep them under cover the first 40 minutes. Serve hot or cold with honey drizzled whipped cream.

Use preferably the milder light honeys—clover, alfalfa, orange, sage, fireweed or a blend of these flavors. Write the Institute for more honey restaurant suggestions.

OWL DECOY FOR HUNTERS

An owl as a decoy for crows is the sportsman's trick Bill Dawe, Nevada hunter, has hit on in a war on the black-feathered birds. By tying the owl to a post Dawe found that the crows could be easily lured within shooting distance.

SAFEWAY STORES

DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

There's a Lot of DIFFERENCE

In every Safeway store or market there is an intangible "something" ... hard to define, yet very pleasantly evident ... which lends a distinct individuality and attractiveness to each. As nearly as we can express it this "noticeable difference" between Safeway Stores and ordinary stores lies not only in the more convenient arrangement, better stock and lower prices but is accounted for by the pronounced attitude of genuinely interested service which Safeway men exhibit toward their patrons. Besides being more economical, it's more pleasant to shop at Safeway.

Prices Effective Friday, Saturday, Mar. 13 to 14 Incl.

If you are looking for a good meat substitute for a Lenten menu, here is an excellent dish:

Corn Loaf
1 can corn 1 cup tomato
1 cup corn meal soup
1 green pepper 1 cup grated
1 tsp. salt cheese
2 onions Pepper to taste

Mix the above and let stand at least 30 minutes. Add two eggs, well beaten, one cup rich milk or cream. Bake one hour in a moderate oven. This is better if the first mixture is allowed to stand for several hours, as it will, then, cut more easily.

SAFEWAY HOMEMAKERS' BUREAU
Most cordially invites you to write for any information you desire, be it a recipe, a budget, a party planned. Simply enclose a self addressed stamped envelope with your request to Julia Lee Wright—Safeway Homemakers' Bureau, Care of Safeway Stores, P.O. Box 774, Oakland, California.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY MAI COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

"Oh, gee," cried Coppy. "Take a look! Is this a dream, or just a brook? Not that it makes much difference, but it's strange as it can be. Just gaze into the water and why I say this you'll understand. Each time I look a flickering reflection I can see."

"This queer how such things come to pass. Why, it's just like a looking glass," said Scouty as he took a look. And then he sighed and said, "Why, my reflection's not so bad. I guess I am a handsome lad. I'd best not look at me too long, or I'll go to my head."

This made the others laugh out loud. Said Coppy, "Say, you're rather proud! But it's the hat you're wearing that is making you look neat. I gazed at you down in the stream and, frankly, I think you're a scream. Just look at my reflection, if you want a real good treat!"

Then Clowzy, frown upon his brow, cried, "Come, come boys!

Don't argue now. Let's leave the stream and hike along the winding country road." And then he jumped very high and loudly shouted, "Me, oh my!" Said Carpy, "Look what scared him. It was just a little toad."

They hiked along a mile or so. The Travel Man then shouted, "Oh, we're walking right into a treat. Just look what's up ahead. Some hunters with a wagon. They have likely had a hunting day. Two antelopes are strung up tight and both of them are dead."

One of the hunters cried "Hello! I guess you lads would like to know just where we got these animals. We'll tell you how 'twas done. They ran across our path today. We raised our guns with him to return it, saying that it was his last cent. The robber put the money back in his victim's pocket and left."

The Tinymites see some hammer heads in the next story.)

Missing Letter Links

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

LADY to LIKE—Although you must be LADY LIKE on the course today, it will require a couple of he-man drives to get a par three.

"You must drop it, Mr. Holmes," he declared. "It would be a grief to me to be forced to take extreme measures."

"Danger is part of my trade," I answered.

YOU'RE WHAT? AFTER WE GOT THROWN OUTTA HIS HOUSE? DON'T NEVER GO NOPLACE FOR A CRAZY TEST BECAUSE I AIN'T NEVER GOIN' TO GET YOU BACK HERE.

FRIDAY, MARCH 13

Heroic Days

(Read Luke 14:25-35.)

And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.

The Christian life is not all a festival. It calls upon us to give up things we like and to do things we do not like, for the sake of others, and for Christ's sake. With all its joys and consolations, yet there is a true sense in which we may say that Christianity is a most uncomfortable religion. Why else should the cross be its symbol? So Jesus warns away those who covet only ease and a quiet life. He would have us count the cost, and it is great. That is an appeal to our best selves; it is the promise of a thrilling life. For the immortal youth that pulses in all our hearts is more covetous of adventure than of pleasure; we would live daringly. The cost registers the value of the Christian life.

PRAYER: Our Father, who has called us into the fellowship of thy Son, grant unto us grace to follow Him, enduring hardship as good soldiers of Jesus Christ. In His name. Amen.

PRESIDENTIAL VETOS

The recent vetoes by President Hoover of bills passed by large majorities by both houses has raised once more the whole question of the power of the President. There is no question that the Constitution gives to the President the absolute right of veto. But the sphere within which that right was to be exercised has been very much disputed. Washington was very reluctant to exercise the right, and the one veto which marks his presidency was based upon the alleged constitutionality of the measure passed by Congress. President Taylor held that the veto should be exercised only in cases of clear violation of the Constitution. The general belief in the early stages of the country's history was that the veto was to be exercised in defense of the Constitution itself, not as an expression of the President's opinion as over against Congress. These facts were clearly stated in an article in the New York Times of March 1 of this year.

In the Current History for March, Professor Munro, of California Institute of Technology, contributes an article on "The President's Increasing Power," in which he gives facts to show that the founding fathers never intended to clothe the President with the great powers which have been growing through the years. He calls attention to the explicit language of the Constitution by which the power of the President is very precisely restricted. He can do nothing of his own right. In every action, except purely executive action, he is restricted not only by the Constitution, but also by the consent of Congress, or by the consent and "advice" of the Senate. The intention of the founders of the government was that the President, as Professor Munro puts it, and the Senate should arrive at decisions by "the huddle system, with the President as quarterback and not as captain." The electoral system, says Professor Munro, was so contrived that not one in twenty presidents could hope to be elected by a majority in the electoral college. In most cases it was expected that the election would be thrown into the House of Representatives.

The question has been raised whether there should not be an amendment to the Constitution maintaining the right of Presidential veto, but that if a bill should pass two successive Congresses, any bill so vetoed should become a law. It was in that way that the British Constitution was changed some 25 years ago to overcome the persistent vetoes of the House of Lords of bills passed by the Commons. Today, the House of Lords may dissent once, but if passed again by Parliament, notwithstanding the veto, it becomes the law of the country.

It is a grave question whether it was ever the intention of the framers of the Constitution that the President should be clothed with the great authority and power which has been assumed by some of the strong executives, like Cleveland, and Roosevelt and Wilson. A re-reading of the Constitution in the light of all these facts will be revealing to any one who chooses to do so.

An eastern university is paying students to swallow balloons in a diet experiment. And to think that in a few months baseball pitchers will blow up free of charge!

HOW TO FORGET YOUR TROUBLES

The "Atlanta Constitution" recently said that we are too much absorbed with our problems. Life has come to be too serious. Everybody is going about with a long face. This talk about failures, and breadlines, and unemployment is getting on our nerves. What is needed is a dash of humor to lighten up the scene.

To do this the paper has appointed a committee to find out whether the people of the South are in the habit of dunking or crumbling their cornpone in potlikker. Governor Huey Long, of Louisiana, announced that he dunked his cornpone. The committee of the Atlanta Constitution found that most of the people of the South crumbled their cornpone in the potlikker. The whole South is agitated about the question, forgetting all about Muscle Shoals, Veteran Bonuses, and all the rest.

Well, cornpone is just ordinary cornbread. Potlikker is the water in which vegetables have been boiled. This potlikker is supposed to be very rich in vitamins. The question agitating the whole South is whether it is best to dunk, that is, to dip the whole piece of cornbread in the potlikker, or whether it is to be crumbled in the hand and then soaked in the potlikker. The whole matter does not mean much to us here in California, but in the South where cornpone has been a staple article of diet for hundreds of years, it is important enough to draw the thoughts of the people from all their other troubles.

AN IDEA ON THE THEATER

Miss Irma Kraft, writer and lecturer on the theater speaking at a luncheon the other day, condemned extravagant and costly stage productions. "We do not need forty, fifty, sixty, seventy thousand dollar productions," she said.

"We need something to think about. The theater has gone further than mere amusement. We need to be enthralled, absorbed, and to go home and think about it."

There is truth in the statement. The public has been impressed and awed and astonished, but the mind has not been much stimulated of late by the theater. The answer of the producer always is "But the public is getting what it wants." Why are they so sure the public is getting what it wants?

There are people who know what the public wants and then there are people who only think they know what the public wants. In order to know one must make contacts with people. In the case of the theater, find out what proportion of the people actually go to the theater, and what proportion do not and then analyze that last section. Learn what they do with their leisure time, why they do not go to the theater, whether it is because it has ceased to intrigue them mentally, or whether they have been forced to discover a cheaper form of amusement. If such were the case the theater producer should not find his situation hopeless. Little Theater groups, particularly where artistic groups have been enlisted have proved that where there is brains and ingenuity there is a possibility of doing most effective and beautiful things at small cost. But in the most successful of such productions, the effects were subordinate to the actors.

THE RECENT STORMS

The severe storm which has swept all over this country has done much to put an end to the drought. But its violence and the amount of the precipitation has gone beyond our desires a bit. We are reminded of the man who prayed fervently for rain, and when it came with fury, he wanted the Lord to know that not quite so much was needed.

The news dispatches indicated that not a single part of the country was missed. And it came in a most desirable form in many areas. The snow covered the fields, and it was cold enough not to melt immediately. Now when the spring sun begins to shine, the snow will begin to melt and gradually soak into the thirsty soil. Damage has been done in many places along the Atlantic Coast; but in the main the storm has been a great blessing to the whole country.

Woman's Might

Imperial Valley Press

"Fifty million Frenchmen can't be wrong", and apparently neither can several thousand California women.

Assemblyman Dan Emmett, author of the bill which would prevent married women from holding city, county or state jobs, announced in the legislature yesterday that his bill would not be taken out of committee.

This bill, the most publicized in the present legislature, drew a storm of protest from women in all parts of the state, who were quick to show what aroused femininity can do toward putting mere man in his proper place.

The merits or demerits of employing women could be argued for a long time without getting any definite result, but there is no room for argument in discussing the power which women wield in political circles.

Hardly was the ink dry on Emmett's bill when women throughout the state arose in protest against it. But they were not content with merely arising. They went out and acted. Petitions were circulated all over the state and were signed by thousands of women and by many men, who do not favor the restrictions the bill would place on women.

When these petitions began to arrive in Sacramento, Mr. Emmett and others who felt as he did, were wise enough to know that the jig was up. They could shove the camel through the eye of the needle quicker than they could get this particular bill through the assembly.

Mr. Emmett shows considerable political sagacity in allowing his bill to die in committee. He will have to show considerable more in our opinion, to put himself over the hurdles if he seeks re-election two years hence. The men in his particular district will certainly have to stick together if they hope to get him anywhere.

Standards

Burbank Daily Review

The thoughts of men have struggled through centuries of difficulty to freedom from traditional autocracies, grim superstitions and ignorant fears. These tyrants laid heavy hands on human progress, but from some of them we are now delivered, and to that extent have taken into our own hands the shaping of our destinies.

But there is no great gain without some loss, and our new-found freedom has its penalties. We are on our way, but we are far from certain where we are going. The passing of the overlordship of ancient error has permitted the multiplication of new prophets and theories and codes, whose name is legion and whose consequence is confusion.

Standards we must have if we are to live at peace or make war intelligently, and the substitution of countless individual codes for the simple arrogance of old autocracy is not the proper fruit of progress. Freedom from error should make the way clear for truth, whose laws are absolute, eternal and of universal application. When the divided loyalties of the world rally to such a standard and serve it with even a fraction of the energy that is now spent on inconsequence, deliverance will be complete and the land of promise at hand.

The Speech and the Vote

Riverside Daily Press

At the meeting of the superintendents' section of the National Education association in Detroit a New Jersey educator made a vociferous speech against prohibition. When the vote was taken, however, on the indorsement of the Eighteenth amendment, there were only six negative votes as compared to several thousand in the affirmative. The "wets" will not take pains to use this vote in their publicity material. The school people of the country are in a strategic position to judge the effects of the dry policy on the youth of the country and they are practically a unit in favor of that policy.

AS TO SNAILS

The snail, with calm unhurried pace,
Moves day by day from place to place
And when at dark
He stops to park
His shell becomes his shakedown.
His days upon the earth are spent
In quiet and serene content.
Avoiding strife
He spends his life
Without a nervous breakdown.

If you and I would imitate
This unperturbed invertebrate
And never try
To fly too high
Or let ambition flurry us
We might eliminate our cares
And disappointments and despair,
And while we're here
Upon this sphere
Have rather less to worry us.

And yet, when all is said and done,
I doubt if snails can have much fun
As on they move
Along the groove
Which they perceive must follow.
Though you perchance may disagree
It certainly appears to me
That though we fret
And get upset
We have them beaten hollow.

In Vienna some of Wagner's operas are to be produced without music. This is, of course, a despicable effort to popularize them.

Longer Jobs and More of Them

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

How can we prevent another unemployment crisis like this one? We can do that only by keeping consumer buying, as a whole, on a level with the output of consumer goods as a whole; for consumption regulates production.

Adequate consumption does more than anything else to sustain employment; and little more is needed to achieve the right rate of consumption, in general, than the right flow of money to consumers.

The largest part of this flow, and the part which is most promptly spent, is the stream of wages. Nothing, therefore, can go so far toward sustaining employment as increasing the weekly payroll of the country fast enough, and not too fast.

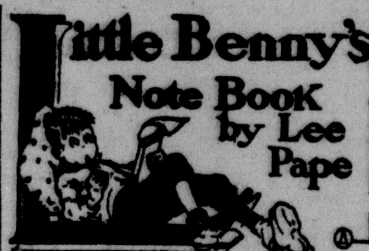

The right rate of increase, plainly, is the rate at which commodities increase. Such an increase of payrolls will be maintained by business men as long as they THINK that business is going to be good; for, in that state of mind, they will increase their own capital expenditures rapidly enough to MAKE business good.

This brings us to a point of major importance. We do not expect that the CHIEF source of increased consumer income, in time of threatened business depression, will ever be increased public expenditures. We expect that private concerns, encouraged by the assurance that governments will act if necessary, will so act, in their own interests, as to make large increases in government expenditures unnecessary.

Public expenditures are at all times additions to private expenditures. There are times when private expenditures are too large; other times when they are too small. The government can regulate a considerable part of its own expenditures accordingly. Thus the government can help to maintain the balance of supply and demand in the markets; and this without exercising any control whatever over private spending.

Every government—Federal, State and local—can thus help private industry to develop longer jobs and more of them.

Yesterday was my sister Gladdis's baby's birthday, being one,
and rite after supper ma called up Gladdis on the telephone, saying,
Did you take the baby picture today, O I think you're awful, I think you're beyond words, such a mother-er, I'm very angry with you, I'm not going to talk to you, good by.

And she sat down looking sad, saying, The idea of not having a photograph of your own grandchild on his first birthday, its the most neglectful thing I ever heard of.
How will Gladdis feel in the years to come when Willie is grown up and asks to see how he looked on his first birthday and Gladdis is obliged to confess that she was-ent even thankful enough to take a single picture, ma sed.

O, he'll survive it, pop sed. Nobody ever took a picture of me on my first birthday and I've hardly had a days sickness in my life, he sed.

That's no reason for visiting the sine of the grate grandparents on the 3rd and 4th generations, ma
sed. I had Benny's picture taken by a full fledged professional photographer brite and early on the morning of his first birthday, she sed.

Good nite, heck, I know you did,
I sed. Holy smokes you had it took laying on my stomach without any clothes on, not even a baby hat, that was a heck of a note, and every time anybody is looking through the alban I haff to leave the room because they nite come to that picture, and G wizzickers if any of the fellows ever see it ill be diskraced for life, good nite that was a heck of a trick to play on a guy and I'm going to tear that picture up some time, I sed.

Don't you dare lay your hands on that picture, ma sed. The idee, if you dare to touch that picture you'll be the sorriest boy that ever lived, the idee such ideers, she
sed.

And she dident say any more about Gladdis not taking Willies picture, properly being a releef to pop.

Thoughts On Modern Life

TOO MANY FARMERS?

Are there too many farmers?
Are there too many acres in cultivation?

How much land are we likely to need for farming in the future?
Here are three questions that lie at the root of the agricultural problem.

The demands for farm products does not grow much faster than the population grows.

And the more urbanized the United States becomes the smaller the demand for food per person is likely to be.

There is an ill founded notion in many minds that the rich and the urbanized eat more than the poor and the ruralized.

The opposite is undoubtedly true.
The farmer and the day laborer eat more farm products than the big business man, who is more likely to begin and end his lunch with a bowl of milk and crackers.

I have heard men at farm meetings say that the American population would soon be great enough to require the farming of all available farm lands to produce an adequate food supply.

Again, the opposite is doubtless true.

If the present rate of American population growth continues we shall have a population of about 175,000,000 somewhere from fifty to seventy-five years from now, and that population figure is likely to remain approximately constant. There are some students of the population problem who think the American population will stabilize at about 170,000,000 in thirty or forty years from now.

Now it is figured that it takes about two and one half acres of farm land to feed one person under our conditions.

If we have, say, 175,000,000 population, as our probable maximum, we shall need 483,000,000 crop acres to feed our people.

Now we have 365,000,000 acres in crops.

Three hundred million acres will feed our present population; the remaining 65,000,000 acres are raising crops for export, crops such as wheat, cotton and so on.

These figures are food for thought!

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

FIRE

All children delight in fire. The fumes have a charm for them that few other elements have. Indeed the love of a blazing fire is in all of us and there is no harm in it, but much satisfaction. Little children do not comprehend the danger are likely to give their mothers
a bit of trouble for a few years but with understanding comes caution and few children do harm to themselves or to others with fire.

There are children who in the early years delight in getting hold of matches and starting little fires.
That is serious. They have no understanding of the danger and so are a source of constant worry.
Just what to do with them is a problem. Some things we know will NOT help.

Burning a child's fingers will not prevent him from playing with matches another time. In this particular the burned child does NOT dread the fire. The instinct to light fire, the impulse to do it now, comes upon this fire-loving creature and he makes his contribution to the fire god once more.

Scolding and screaming and calling in the fireman to talk to him does no good either. That sort of dramatic scene seems to strengthen his desire to see the flames
mount and soon he does it again.
What will help?

Sometimes if the child is a normal-minded child, it helps if he is allowed to set the fire in the proper places under supervision.
If his mother says, "You wait until it is time to light the stove and I will let you strike the match and set the flame going and show you where to put the dead match. We have to be very careful because fire is so dangerous but I'll stand by and watch so you'll be quite safe."

If there is an open fire in the house that helps. The child can sit by the fire, can be taught to feed it properly, under set conditions and always under supervision. It seems that prolonged experience with sitting fires and watching them trains the child to understanding and caution.

All matches should be kept in a tin box and out of sight. There should be no suggestion to lead to setting fires in unusual places, so all rubbish, dead matches, and live ones, must be kept out of sight, cleared away, properly carried for always. The less talk about the child's tendency before him, the better. Talking keeps the idea alive.

If you have a child who habitually sets fires in unusual and dangerous places,—in his bed, in the closet, in the garage and the like, have him examined by a child expert with all promptness.
Sometimes we can help such children by discovering their motive in setting the fires. One child did it to center the attention of the family upon himself. Another did it to get even with somebody who had hurt his feelings. Another did it because his nerves were over-strained due to a severe illness in infancy. Some just did it and nobody could discover why. Normal children cease to make fires in childhood.

FRANCO-AMERICAN PACT

On March 13, 1778, the Marquis de Noailles, French ambassador in London, announced to the British government that his country recognized the independence of the American colonies, and that it had formed a treaty of friendship and commerce with them.

To the struggling colonies this news was received with great enthusiasm. In Europe, however, the reaction was different. Lord Stormont, British ambassador to France, left Paris immediately without informing the French government of his intention. Spain, which owned vast areas in the United States, also showed her resentment of the treaty.

Within a month France and England were at war, and Spain was kept friendly to France only by a secret treaty, which promised that France would recognize United States dominion only as far west as the Mississippi river.
